DON'T DELAY TO

Stop that cough! Else the bronchial tubes will be enlarged and the delicate tissues of the lungs exposed to injury. No other medicine is so speedily operative in throat and lung troubles as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A few doses have been known to break up an obstinate and distressing cough. Sufferers from asthma, bronchitis, croup, consumption, sore throat, and whooping cough find a sure relief in the use of this preparation. It soothes the inflamed membrane, promotes expectoration, and induces repose. Try Don't be without it in the house. Sallie E. Stone, Hurt's store, Va., writes: "I have found, in my family, that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was always a certain cure for colds and coughs."

"Five years ago I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and had been given up by my physicians. I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and was completely cured."—Anga A. Lewis, Ricard, N. Y.

WEATHER.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Toledo, March 29, 1892.

Weather Conditions.

The country east of a line drawn through Marquette, Chicago and Mobile, is still under the influence of the high barometer area which is this morning central over Michigan, and clear weather prevails. The country west of the Mississippi is under the influence of the low barometer area, which has moved eastward and is to-day central over North Dakota, and cloudy weather prevails. This storm center will move eastward during the day and drawing up the warm air from the gulf will bring warmer and cloudy weather to the lake region by tomorrow evening. The southern limit of freezing temperature passed this morning through Duluth, Port Huron, Buffalo and down the St. Lawrence. Very little precipitation is reported for the past 24 hours. This morning light rain was falling at Huron and Ft. Buford. The weather in this vicinity will be fair and warmer to-day and for Wednesday increasing cloudiness and probably light rain in the afternoon or at night, with slight changes in temperature.

The highest place, among all blood-medicines, belongs to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. See if you don't think so, when you consider how it's sold to you. It's guaranteed—and no other medicine of the kind is. If it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. Wouldn't every medicine make the same terms if it could do as much good?

But the "Discovery" acts differently, just as it's sold differently. It's not like the sarsaparillas, which claim to do good in March, April, and May. All the year round, with equal benefit, it cleanses, purifies and invigorates the whole system. All Blood, Skin and Scalp Diseases, from a common blotch or eruption to the worst Scrofula, are cured by it. For Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Goiter or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands, Tumors, and Swellings, it's a remedy that nothing can equal.

It's the cheapest one, too. With this, you pay only for the good you get. Refuse worthless substitutes.

CANNOT DODGE IT,

Parliament Must Look Into the Claims

That Eagan and Daly, Alleged Dynamiters,

Were Convicted by Conspiracy.

Investigation Into Black's Career.

He Has Been Living on Blackmail, Which the Wife of a Prominent Citizen Has Been Helping Him to Obtain.

New York, March 29.—The Sun this morning has a special cablegram from London giving the details of the investigation made by its English representative into the fall of James Black, an ex-inspector of police in Birmingham, whose disappearance has caused John Redmond to ask Home Secretary Matthews whether, as John Daly and James Eagan were convicted largely on the evidence of this inspector, an investigation will be instituted by the authorities into his official career.

Black, to whom was principally due the conviction of Michael Davitt, 23 years ago, of Dr. Gallagher nine years ago, and Egan and Daly, has been considered one of the shrewdest detectives in England.

The Sun's representative who visited Birmingham yesterday, finds that Black is now a discredited man who is known to have been a party to blackmailing schemes, and who is at present a fugitive from home owing to threats of an investigation of his official career.

The facts ascertained have been given to Redmond, and upon them he will base a further demand for an investigation, in which he will be upheld by Alderman Manton, who has been for 40 years a member of the watch committee, which controls the police department at Birmingham.

Alderman Manton is a conservative, so that politics do not enter into his view of the case.

Alderman Manton said yesterday that after the conviction of Daly and Eagan the chief constable of Birmingham told him that the two men were innocent and that a job had been "planted" on them.

"It is all out now," said the venerable alderman excitedly, "and there must be a government inquiry. Daly and Eagan are innocent men and it is necessary to establish an inquiry into the official career of James Black."

The circumstances which led up to the exposure of Black are these: Early in February he tendered his resignation as inspector of police. The watch committee begged him to consider, but he was obdurate. At the same time that Black announced his intention of resigning, a young woman who was living apart from her husband, J. W. Elliot, a wealthy old resident of Birmingham, made sudden demand upon him for 3,000 pounds.

Elliot, who was an elderly widower with a grown-up family, had married the woman in London about eighteen months ago, she having brought a charge of seduction against him.

His solicitors investigated the case, and it turned out that the woman had been Black's mistress for several years, and that it was through his friendly advice to old Elliot, when the charge of seduction was brought, that he had married her.

The solicitors then not only declined to give her the money, but threatened to bring suit for divorce against her, with Black as co-respondent. This was the reason Black resigned so suddenly from the police department, for he knew that his secret had gotten out and he feared exposure.

Since these facts have been whispered about in Birmingham numbers of citizens have come to the chief of police to tell him of successful blackmailing operations upon them by Mrs. Elliot when she was known as Mrs. Hall, and in almost every instance Inspector Black's kindly advice to the victims to pay up in order to avoid a scandal had been the reason for submission.

It can be easily understood that the discovery of these facts in connection with Black's private life and official career has cast quite a new complexion on the Daly and Egan case.

These men, it has always been declared by those who studied their case, were innocent of the charges brought against them, and there now seems to be every reason to believe that they were the victims of a vile plot.

Black's testimony was almost the only evidence against Egan. It was he who swore that a bottle of nitro-glycerine was found hidden in the garden attached to Egan's house.

Alderman Manton and others have repeatedly declared that the police placed the bottle in the garden, where they dug it up, and it would indeed now appear as if there was much justification for that allegation.

This is the phase of the matter which has appealed to Mr. John Redmond and which he is determined to probe to the uttermost depths.

If he can prove to the house of commons that at the time of the Egan and Daly case Black's character was such as to make his evidence wholly unreliable, the fetters must at once be struck off the unfortunate men who are at the present moment wearing themselves out in penal servitude.

OVERMAN'S BLACK EYE.

The President Adds a Sting to the Sentence of the Court.

Washington, March 29.—The secretary of war has directed that Major Overman, U. S. A., recently tried by court-martial for converting public funds to his private use, be released from arrest, as the court sentenced him simply "to be reprimanded in general orders."

The president, in approving the sentence says: "The findings and sentence are, in my opinion, more favorable to the accused than they should have been, but under the circumstances they are approved.

"Such methods of dealing with the public moneys and accounts as the evidence disclosed on the part of Major Overman are highly reprehensible and tend to the discredit of the honorable corps to which he belongs." The secretary of war will make the necessary orders to carry out the sentence.

MINNESOTA'S IRON LANDS.

The Rush Has About Come to an End.

Thirteen Hundred Leases Have Been Made Since the New Law Went Into Effect.

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—The great rush to secure leases of mineral lands in the iron belt in the northern part of the state is practically over, inasmuch as nearly all the land supposed to be ore bearing is secured either by lease or contract.

Since the law protecting and providing for the leasing of state lands went into effect 1,328 leases have been issued, while a large number still remain on file waiting to be looked up and cleared. In a few cases leases taken out some time ago have been allowed to lapse, but since the recent activity no lease has been permitted to go by default. Fifty-year contracts have been issued in 124 cases.

The most valuable finds in many cases have been located on small holdings. The Biwabik mine was leased by a man who could get but 40 acres, and the Stowell Iron company leased simply section 16, northwest corner of 59-14, to strike an exceedingly rich mine, which promises to be very productive. Sections 1, 2, 3, 10, 17, 20 and 58-16 have proved boons to the Cincinnati, Iron Mountain and other mining companies, although but small tracts of land were originally secured. The members of the Buckeye Mining company filed on a 160-acre tract, and that one mine on the western end of the Mesabi has proved a veritable bonanza.

There is little or no land left unsecured on the Vermillion range that is considered desirable. The exploration and prospecting have proved that the land leased is, in a majority of cases, ore bearing. The development of this iron region is still in its infancy, and the explorations of this summer may disclose still richer prizes than any yet discovered.

The first noticeable effect favorable to the state is the tremendous increase in the school fund. There is a provision in the state's law that sections 16 and 36 in every township of the state should be reserved for school purposes. A large part of these lands have already been sold, and the fund derived from these sales now amounts to more than $1,300,000.

NEWS FROM FOSTORIA.

H. P. Williams Claims His Arrest Was Not Justified.

Fostoria, O., March 29.—Dr. T. L. Richards, of this city, has been offered the position of assistant physician at the Ohio penitentiary. He has not as yet accepted.

About a month ago H. P. Williams, of this city, was arrested and taken to Canton on a charge of having obtained goods under false pretenses. This was only a scheme on the part of the authorities of Canton to get him to that place on a charge of buncoing a farmer named Shriver out of $5,000. Williams is out on bail, and came to this city Saturday in hopes of finding proof that he was in this city at the time the farmer was swindled.

TO CARE FOR THE PRESS.

Two Hundred and Seventy-Four Seats for the Working Reporters.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 29.—The original convention hall plans provided for 224 seats for the reporters. The press committee fancied that these accommodations were insufficient. Some members of the national committee thought that more seats for the press would crowd out some of the spectators.

Architect Hayes, however, has found that 50 more seats can be added in the space already allowed to the press without crowding, and it has been decided that 274 seats will be reserved for the newspaper men.

GOOD TEMPLARS.

Upper Sandusky, O., March 29.—(Special)—The different lodges of the order of Good Templars of this district, No. 7, will hold a convention in this city to-morrow and Wednesday. The district is composed of the counties of Crawford, Marion, Richland and Wyandot, and upwards of 40 delegates are expected. While here the delegates will be royally entertained, a rich musical entertainment to be one of the treats promised them.

DYNAMITERS.

Vienna, March 29.—A party of four persons have been arrested by the police of Trieste for being in possession of dynamite.

The suspects have arrived in Trieste from Constantinople. Two of them have been liberated, the police having concluded that they had no part in any evil design of their companions.

THE NEW EVANGELISTS.

A Peculiar Sect Found in Brooklyn.

Wicked to Give Medicine to the Sick,

And Unholy to Have a Bank Account—Five Hundred Curious People In One Sect.

New York, March 29.—A queer revival is now going on in the southern district of Brooklyn in a little ramshackle hall in Hamilton avenue, near historic Fort Hamilton.

It is a new movement among the Swedish faith curists. Whole blocks in Brooklyn in the vicinity of Greenwood cemetery are occupied by Swedes, and there are probably more of them there than in any city of Sweden outside of Stockholm.

In their native land these people, or many of them, were Lutherans. Within the past five years members of a sect known as New Evangelists came over the water, and a church was established in the neighborhood of the present revival.

The chief doctrine of the New Evangelists is the belief in perfect sanctification and the immortality of fate.

The leader of the New Evangelists is Adolph Larsen, a Swede, and a man of great force of character. He has kept the sect undivided, and the revival just set in promises to make the "church" more powerful than before it was broken up in Brooklyn two years ago.

The New Evangelists refuse to treat a sick person, believeing that if his or her time has come it is not only useless but positively wicked to apply medicines. According to their belief messages are received direct from the Holy Ghost at every one of the meetings.

They believe that churches and ministers are but barriers between man and his Maker. It is regarded as sin to hold property, and the strongest believers give away their goods to the cause. One instance of the operation of this belief shows how earnest these people are.

A poor Swedish laborer admitted at a meeting this week that he had $100 in bank. The "elders" withdrew to consult the Holy Ghost. They reappeared in a few minutes and told the Swede that the Holy Ghost had ordered them to take $75 of this amount for "church extension" and to send the remaining $25 to his old mother in Sweden. The Swede gave up the money without a murmur.

Two years ago, while Larsen's society was at the zenith of its success, the attention of the coroner was called to the numerous deaths among the children of the sect, who were without medical attendance. The deaths of eight of them were directly attributable to the neglect of their parents.

As death after death occurred the people outside this peculiar sect became alarmed and the police soon became attendants at the meeting house of the New Evangelists. Forcible medical attendance was given the children who were sick, but had not yet died.

The physicians had to practice their calling under great difficulties, as the parents of the children warned them that advice was all they should give, medicines being the instruments of the Evil One. But the doctors forced the medicine on the children, knowing that it would not be administered after they had left the house. Diphtheria was the ruling disease at that time. Dr. Bierwirth of the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children took the matter in hand, and it was owing to his promptness and skill that many lives were saved.

About a dozen persons were arrested at his instance for resisting the doctors' efforts to treat their children. The New Evangelists never gave the physicians credit for their work, claiming that the children had been cured by the grace of God, secured through their prayers. The police succeeded in breaking up the society temporarily, but Larsen, who went to Europe, arrived in Brooklyn a month ago with a batch of imported converts, and the movement has again been revived with more vigor than ever.

The exercises of the New Evangelists are very simple, consisting mainly in the burning the prayer books and the hymnals of other denominations. Meetings are held three times a week. On Sunday the meeting lasts from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight, and the session is continuous.

At 7 o'clock a service of eating begins, the repast consisting of sandwiches and coffee. Here it is that the prayer and hymn books come in handily, being used to make the fire to boil the coffee.

The "church" as it appeared to-day, is made up of Scandinavians of the hard working class, illiterate but not vicious. Never given much to personal adornment, the New Evangelists dress even more plainly than the Swedes outside its tenets. The only jewelry worn is by the women, and this consists solely of the wedding ring.

The women are not unattractive, and the younger members are even pretty. But all are thoroughly imbued with their faith, and none will wed an unbeliever. This trait is bringing young men into the sect, and the Lutheran ministers fear the effect upon their own congregations.

At the present time the New Evangelists number about 500 persons of all ages. Larsen says this number will be increased to 2,000 within a year. He proposes to collect funds to build a handsome "church" on the site of the present meeting place.

BATTLE WITH ROBBERS.

They Are Determined in Their Attempts.

A Trainload of Policemen Attacked on the Louisville & Nashville.

Birmingham, Ala., March 29.—Sunday night an attempt was made to wreck and rob a Louisville & Nashville passenger train at Boyle's Gap, three miles north of Birmingham.

Last night a squad of nine policemen went up on the same train at 11:30 and news has reached here that the robbers repeated their attempt and a battle ensued.

Over 100 shots were fired, though the results cannot be ascertained. Reinforcements have been sent for and a special train left with ten picked men. The Southern Express company has been on the lookout for a robbery along this line in Alabama for two weeks.

CHANCE FOR A LAWSUIT.

Contractors Charged With Abusing Their Employes Unto Death.

Watertown, N. Y., March 29.—James Coyle died at his home in Ogdensburg yesterday. He was employed on the Adirondack & St. Lawrence railroad, but was compelled to give up work 10 days ago owing to illness.

He told a pitiful story of the treatment received by the laborers on the road. He said the contractors were heartless and treated their men like dogs. The physician who attended Coyle says his death was undoubtedly due to exposure and poor food.

THE GARZA CAMPAIGN.

Washington, March 29.—Brigadier General D. S. Stanley, commanding the department of Texas, is in the city and to-day had a conference with Secretary Elkins and Gen. Schofield, during which he detailed his operations against Garza and his Mexican band. He has not yet made an official report.

TO SHUT UP SHOP.

The Interstate National Bank, of New York, to Go Into Liquidation.

New York, March 29.—It is announced that the Interstate National bank is about to close its doors, the stockholders having decided to surrender their charter and go into liquidation on April 15.

The bank was incorporated about 10 years ago with an authorized capital of $200,000, which the officers say is still intact. They also say that depositors will be paid as soon as their accounts are balanced.

Two of the directors said that it would have been doing an enormous business today had not the Sixth National bank scandal been made known to the public immediately after the Interstate came into existence. This retarded the growth of the new bank and it never recovered from the shock.

A DIVORCE IN QUESTION.

Ex-Secretary Bayard to the Defense of a Woman.

Wilmington, Del., March 29.—Concerning the validity of the divorce of Mrs. James Burke-Roche, daughter of Frank Work of New York, the annulment of whose marriage contract was granted by the superior court of this state, ex-Secretary Bayard said yesterday:

"I can only say that Mrs. Burke-Roche secured a legal divorce in this state and the comity of the courts will recognize it. Her divorce was not a secret one. Personal notice of her intention to apply for a divorce was served upon James Burke-Roche in England and public notice was also given.

"The courts of this state divorced her from a worthless, faithless husband. The law of this state protect her, and should he attempt to harass her we will very soon put him in prison."

RESIGNED HIS OFFICE.

Secretary of State Dan Ryan Steps Out.

He Does So to Take a Position on the World's Fair Commission from Ohio.

Columbus, March 29.—(Special)—Secretary of State Dan Ryan, has resigned.

He does so in order to be able to take the office of executive commissioner of the world's fair commission from Ohio.

Mr. Ryan's successor will be appointed by Gov. McKinley, and the appointee will probably be the chief clerk in the secretary of state' office, Mr. B. J. McKinnie.

Mr. McKinnie came from Portsmouth. He is a young man not over 31, and had active supervision over the secretary of state's office ever since taking hold and will very naturally drop into the higher office.

He is an attorney by profession, has been county treasurer and clerk of the Scioto county courts and is admirably fitted for the place to which he will in all likelihood be appointed.

Secretary of State Ryan's resignation is to take effect on April 1.

SOLD FOR BIG MONEY.

London, March 29.—The diamond earrings and pearl pendants which were stolen by Mrs. Florence Ethel Osborne from her friend and relative, Mrs. Hargreaves, were sold at auction to-day.

A large and fashionable crowd attended, rather more out of curiosity than as bidders. The ear-rings brought £665 and the pendants £416.

WANDERED TO DEATH.

Columbia City, Ind., March 29.—Wm. McKinley, a prominent resident of Warsaw, 20 miles west of this city, got drunk over his defeat as prosecutor in the convention and wandered, it is supposed, to the river and was drowned.

He was at one time a preacher, but of late has been in the real estate business. H is a cousin of Gov. McKinley.

REAR END COLLISION.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 29.—A rear end collision between a freight and passenger train on the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg road occurred at Pulaski at 8 o'clock this morning, wrecking the caboose of the freight train and the pilot of the passenger engine. No one was injured.

HE WANTED TO SHOOT.

Attempted Assault on Ex-Mayor Woolsey.

An Upper Sandusky Man Goes Gunning and Gets Into Jail for His Pains.

Upper Sandusky, March 29.—(Special)—E. R. Irmer, a prominent business man at Nevada, this county, attempted to shoot ex-Mayor Woolsey, of that place, yesterday, but was prevented by interference of bystanders.

The trouble between the two was over a sum of money owed Irmer by Woolsey. Irmer has been arrested.

SOLD ON THE BLOCK.

Three Negroes Put Up at Auction in Missouri.

Fayette, Mo., March 29.—A sale under the vagrant act took place here yesterday, when three negroes were sold on the dock to the highest bidder. One brought $25, another $5, and the third $1. The negro element is highly indignant and threaten revenge.

PUNISHABLE BY DEATH.

Madrid, March 29.—The Spanish government proposes to follow the example of the French in the introduction of a bill making anarchist outrages capital, even when no death has been caused by such outrage. The bill will contain other severe measures for the suppression of anarchy.

HAT FACTORY BURNED.

Danbury, Conn., March 29.—The hat factory of Crofut & White was burned this morning. Loss $30,000, well covered by insurance. Three hundred people were employed in the factory.

THE MODUS VIVENDI.

The Foreign Office Asked for Information.

The Statement That England Was Not Opposed to a Renewal Greeted With Cheers.

London, March 29.—In the house of commons to-day Mr. E. Temperly Gourley, liberal M. P. for Sunderland, asked whether Lord Salisbury's government had refused to renew the modus vivendi in the matter of the Bering Sea negotiations.

Mr. Lowther, parliamentary under secretary for the foreign office, replied that it was not true that the government had refused to renew the modus vivendi and he referred to the latest dispatches as evidence of that fact. The government had acted as it thought necessary for the protection of the rights of British subjects engaged in seal hunting.

This statement was received with cheers.

AT THE LAST DITCH.

The United States Senate Was Ready to Act.

Salisbury's Note Came in Time to Save Trouble.

Justice Lamar Reported Ill—The Cabinet in Session—Carlisle to Surprise the Nevada Man.

Washington, March 29.—A prominent senator whose thorough knowledge of what has occurred during the executive sessions of the senate on the Bering sea treaty cannot be doubted, said to-day that the ratification of the treaty contemplated would be in accordance with the report of the majority of the committee on foreign relations, who have steadily opposed the addition of a stipulation imposing a renewal of last year's agreement before the treaty should become effective.

He said that a feeling of hostility toward the attitude assumed by Great Britain has been so strong in the senate that the report of the minority of the foreign relations committee would undoubtedly have been adopted and the treaty suspended to await a renewal of the modus vivendi, had not Lord Salisbury's note expressed his willingness to arrange a mutually satisfactory agreement.

Gen. Nettleton turned sharply and with much warmth said to Senator Chandler that in view of the fact that it was well known to him (Chandler) that Secretary Windom inaugurated such a system and Secretary Foster had taken it up, he would like to know why Senator Chandler asked him, a subordinate, such a question. He added that the chairmen of the two committees were attempting to fix something on him which it was plain had no foundation.

The gentlemen accused promptly denied this statement and declared that they were animated only by a desire to arrive at the facts.

Mr. Nettleton was not satisfied, and said his information was different, but the matter was finally dropped.

Ellis Island Expenditures.

Washington, March 29.—The senate and house committee on immigration in joint session to-day resumed the investigation into the expenditures of money for the Ellis island improvements.

A spirited tilt took place between Gen. Nettleton and Senator Chandler over a question which was, in effect, if Gen. Nettleton did not fix the policy of the department in the matter of transferring appropriations.

In the Senate.

Washington, March 29.—The vice president laid before the senate to-day three requests from organized labor in the district of Columbia which asked, first, representation according to democratic principles, such as prevailed in every other community; second, the proper enforcement of the eight-hour law; and third, a sufficient appropriation to provide text books in the public schools.

Pathetic Coincidence.

Washington, March 29.—A pathetic coincidence was observable in the death at the Providence hospital yesterday of Mrs. Clark, widow of the original founder of Tombstone, Ariz. Mrs. Clark came to Washington from San Francisco a month ago with her daughter, just out of school.

After a few days' sight seeing she was taken ill and grew constantly worse until death.

Mr. Clark died several years ago in Washington under precisely similar conditions, having come here for a short visit to see the sights of the capital. He was buried in Congressional cemetery, and Mrs. Clark will probably lie by his side.

Senator Mills.

Washington, March 29.—The credentials of Roger Q. Mills as senator from Texas arrived yesterday and were laid before the senate to-day.

To-morrow Mr. Mills will be 60 years old and he has chosen the anniversary of his birthday to make his entrance into the senate.

Last night Congressman Crain, of Texas, gave a dinner in honor of the new senator at Chamberlain's.

Silver in the Senate.

Washington, March 29.—Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, gave notice in the senate today that immediately after the morning hour on Monday next he should call up his free coinage bill, now on the senate calendar, with an adverse report.

When he does Senator Carlisle proposes to show that in the many land contracts and mortgages held by the senator, every one of them has the "gold clause" inserted in it.

Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, March 29.—Promptly at 11:30 the cabinet met in their room in the the white house, all the members being present. The Bering sea question was taken up at once, and President Harrison's response to Lord Salisbury's latest note was discussed. It will be given to Lord Pauncefote this afternoon, it is understood.

Justice Lamar.

Washington, March 29.—Reports that Justice Lamar is seriously ill are denied at his residence this morning. He was prevented from attending the supreme court yesterday, it was stated, by a cold and he remained in bed. To-day, however, he is up and about after a good night's rest, and expects to be at the capitol to-morrow.

Pensions.

Washington, March 29.—In the week ended March 19 the pension bureau allowed 5,730 claims, of which 1,623 were under the general law and 4,162 under the act of 1890. The total first payment was $833,800, the average being $144, and the average monthly rate $7.96.

RESCUED FROM THE ROCKS.

The Big Ship Eider Again Afloat.

After Two Months of Hard Work the Craft was Released and Towed Into Safety.

London, March 29.—The North German Lloyd steamship Eider, which went ashore on Atherfield rocks, off the Isle of Wight, on the night of the 31st of January, was to-day successfully floated off the reefs into deep water, and is now being towed into Southampton.

Capt. Heinecke, who has stuck to his ship with never wavering confidence that it would at length be rescued, and who has labored night and day in the work, accompanied the ship to Southampton.

When the Eider reached deep water and remained afloat, the salvors and all present gave a cheer that made the cliffs of Wight ring again and again, and Capt. Heinecke was almost overcome by his feelings.

He has nearly exhausted himself by his incessant efforts, and shows marked signs of the anxiety he has endured for nearly two months.

But for Capt. Heinecke's earnest representations, it is probable that all attempts to save the Eider would have been given up, and the vessel allowed to beat itself to pieces on the rocks. As it is, the Eider is considerably damaged, but the main part of the steamer is in good condition, and with repairs she will, before long, be doing service again on the ocean.

SENATOR BURNS

Of the Twelfth Ohio Senatorial District Makes a Strong Statement.

A Case That Dates From the Late War and Illustrates the Success In Cases of Long Standing.

The following statement from Senator Thomas A. Burns, who represents the Twelfth senatorial district in the present Ohio legislature, will be read with much interest by the senator's many friends in this city and vicinity. The statement is in his own words and over his signature:

"While in the federal service in the winters of 1861-62, I contracted a heavy cold, which brought on pneumonia and resulted in disease of the lungs and throat. From that time until my term of service ended, November, 1865, I was more or less affected. Just after my return from the army I had profuse hemorrhage of the lungs, which has occurred at intervals several times. About 1874 I was attacked with catarrh of the throat and lungs, and gastric catarrh of the stomach, which prostrated me for thirty days, so that I was not expected to recover. In the fall of 1881 I had another attack of catarrh of the head and throat which produced gathering in the head; entire deafness of the left ear; soreness of the throat and trachea, extending to the lungs, with profuse discharge from the nose and throat. In this condition three eminent physicians despaired of my recovery, and told me that I would have to procure other medical assistance, as they could do no more for me. I applied to a prominent physician of Cincinnati, specialist for throat and lung diseases, who gave me treatment, and I think did me much good, and I believe would have effected a cure had his diagnosis discovered the true cause of my disease. I have been treated for twenty years past by three very eminent physicians at my home, and to whose medical skill I give the honor affording me temporary relief.

"The first of January, 1892, seeing Dr. Copeland and associates' notice of treatment for catarrh and lung diseases, I called on them at their offices. Their diagnosis was so thorough that I was convinced that they had discovered the true cause of my debility. At my second visit the doctors removed from the nasal passage of the left side a polypi tumor larger than a quail's egg, and from the right side a tumor about half the size of the other. The operation was performed without pain or other inconvenience, and did not necessitate an hour's loss from business.

"I have been under the doctors' treatment for two months. Since the removal of the tumors or polypi I have experienced no trouble at all with catarrh of the head. My throat has not been sore since the operation. My general health is much better than it was before the treatment, and I feel greatly encouraged and that I shall not experience any further trouble with nasal catarrh.

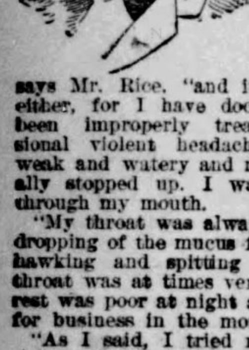
"I want to say this is not a paid statement, but given for the benefit of any who may be likewise suffering.

"Dr. Copeland's charges to me were $5 per month and no more."

THOMAS A. BURNS.

Mr. Rice's Case.

It is rarely that the specialist, whose observation covers a wide range of throat and lung troubles and whose experience brings him in contact with many of the serious and desperate cases resulting from neglected catarrh, sees a more pronounced case and one more typical of what head and throat trouble, if neglected or not properly treated, may develop into, than the case of Mr. Ancil G. Rice, of 219 Dix street. As near as possible we give his own words:



"My trouble has all been due to chronic catarrh," says Mr. Rice, "and it was not neglected, either, for I have doctored for years, but been improperly treated. I had occasional violent headaches. My eyes were weak and watery and my nose was continually stopped up. I was forced to breathe through my mouth.

"My throat was always filling up with the dropping of the mucus from the head. I was hawking and spitting all the time. My throat was at times very sore and raw. My rest was poor at night and I was really unfit for business in the morning.

"As I said, I tried many prominent physicians, but experienced very little relief. I had heard and read of the success of Dr. Copeland and associates, and concluded to give them a trial. I did so with the result that my pains, aches and other troubles are all gone. The change in my condition is such that I unhesitatingly recommend Dr. Copeland and associates to all who suffer as I did."

Nasal Polypi Described by a Patient

"I had been troubled for a number of years," said Mr. George Hoffman, of 107 Empire street. "My head and nose was completely stopped up and I had to breathe through my mouth. This was due, in a measure, to the accumulation of mucus, but more especially to a number of polypi tumors which filled both nostrils. I had treated with a number of physicians but none of them discovered the tumors. Some time ago I called on Dr. Copeland and associates, and placed myself under their treatment. They immediately removed seven polypi tumors and I was able to breathe through my nostrils, something I had not done in years. They then treated my catarrh, and I am happy to say I am feeling better to-day than I have for years. The removal of the tumors was without the slightest pain or loss of blood. I cannot recommend Dr. Copeland and associates too highly."

Portage, O., Feb. 9, 1892.

Copeland Medical Institute, Toledo, O.:

Gentlemen:—Since taking your treatment for catarrh, I am very much better. My general health is much improved, my sense of smell has returned. My case was a chronic one and will require time. I am greatly encouraged and anticipate a complete cure. Refer anyone to me.

Yours respectfully,
N. C. BESANSON.

A Prominent Real Estate Agent Tells of the Removal of Twenty Polypi Tumors.

Among the many prominent real estate agents in Toledo, none are more popular or more favorably known than Mr. J. J. Sumner, whose offices are at the corner of Superior and Madison streets, and who lives at 721 Prouty avenue. Mr. Sumner tells of his experience with Dr. Copeland and associates as follows:

"I had catarrh for a long time. My nose stopped up so that I could breathe only with great difficulty. In damp weather I could not breathe at all. I suffered from terrible, racking headaches. I often thought my head would burst with the throbbing and the pain. There was a constant flow of mucus from my nose, and my eyes became sore and watery. I did not sleep well, and I found that I was losing my sense of smell. I was most distressed, however, about my voice, which changed in tone until it sounded as if I pinched my nose with my fingers while talking.

"I was quite in despair, when after reading the testimonials of the patients of Dr. Copeland and associates I determined to make a trial of their treatment. I accordingly went to the Copeland Medical Institute, and it was only a short time until I began to breathe through my nose, until the headaches disappeared and until the polypus growths were removed. I can now hear the natural voice that has returned to me, much to my comfort and delight. I sleep well and I feel well. I have only one fear, and that is that the polypi may return, so I have concluded to continue the treatment for another month, at the end of which time I shall be forever rid, I hope, of the complaint that for four years made life a burden to me. I am glad to add my small tribute of praise to the splendid work of these physicians."

THE NORTHERN INDIANS.

What Schwatka Found in Far-off Alaska.

Packing Their Load Across the Mountains.

Deserted Villages, Where the Red Man Had Lived Found in Many Places in Alaska.

Tahkou-Yakon Portage, B. N. W. T., June 3, 1891.—The night of the 29th and 30th of May gave us a light frost, but as nearly all vegetation seemed fairly well along, it demonstrated, I assumed, its very hardy character.

Great fire-swept spaces among the timber, no doubt the work of wandering native hunters, now appeared along the mountain slopes, and here the conifers stood out, blackened and bare, while the green-hued populace were, still alive, making the contrast very vivid.

A slight wind helped us as we started, the morning of the 30th, but it was varied during the day. Despite the cold the river rose some three inches, and I find in my journal the mournful prediction that "if the Indians keep camping lower and the river keeps rising, the camps and the cold water will soon meet." By noon we had made only a mile and a half, the morning's camp in sight and the pole-men about exhausted.

Early in the evening, tired out, we camped; not even attempting to improve on a coarse gravel bar for a bed place, by going a little farther. That evening I heard a ruffled grouse drumming in the woods near the camp, but so far we had seen no game birds.

The night of the 30th and 31st the river rose a scant inch, but Robert insisted that the stream was so swollen that unless we got a strong up-stream wind we could go no further, although it was but a few miles to where the river transportation ceased, and all effects would have to be carried on our packers' backs.

At noon we got away with just enough wind to spread our sails, but these had to be aided by the poles, paddles or tracking. By 4:30 we had sighted the houses at the head of canal-navigation a couple of miles away, but it took three hours' hard work to reach them.

The country was now much more open, the timber growth extending over the tops of most of the hills. At 5:30 we made a desperate yet brilliant fight through high-rolling rapids, to attain a point which we got by the very epidermis on the skin of our teeth. It settled the day's success, however, and by 7:30 we camped at the head of canoe navigation, with the consolation that on the next river we were to float down. This day we had made but three and a half miles, but equal to any fifty of common travel. At least the Indians thought so, for they begged to stay over the next day.

The day's delay was taken advantage of in astronomical observations, arranging packs, the doctor investigating geology, etc., etc. Bear tracks were very numerous and the Indians reported this locality full of large game, deer alone being absent. We were now getting far enough inland to leave behind the greater moisture of the Pacific coast, and the Indians assured me that it was dry here when the seaboard was usually drenched with showers. A strange Tahku came into camp spreading the cheerful report that the snow was from 10 to 15 feet deep some 20 miles ahead on the trail. I thought I saw a scheme in it at the time, and felt satisfied of it later. I did not hire him as a guide. Now that the Indians will undoubtedly enter closer into the descriptions of the adventures, it may be well to mention them here more in detail, so I give their names below, both native and Americanized, and the tribes to which they belonged:

Native, Kook-sah'k: Americanized, Robert; tribe, Tahku (T'linkit).

Native, Shak-qua-tah: Americanized, Sam; tribe, Sitka (T'linkit).

Native, Kah-ee; Americanized, John; tribe, Kootznahoo (T'linkit).

Native, Skeet-lah-sah: Americanized, Edward; tribe, Chilkat (T'linkit).

Native, Koo-nagh-ka-sah, Americanized, Jim; tribe, Tahku (T'linkit).

Native, Kool-teen, Americanized, Paddy; tribe, Tahku (T'linkit).

Native, Tah-wootz: Americanized, Barney; tribe, Taltan (T'linkit).

The Taltans are an interior tribe near the Cassiar mines of British Columbia.

Skeet-lah-kah, the son of Shot-rich, Chilkat chief, had served me as a packer when a boy of but 14 years of age, in 1883. Even then he carried 68 pounds over a 40-mile mountain trail, and this time he was clearly the strongest and most enduring of all the packers. Sam had attended mission school in his younger days, and knew our language well enough for rough interpretation. Paddy had also acquired a small share of it among the miners, while, in fact, all of them understood it better than they pretended.

It will be remembered that the Indian packers would have to "double" their loads of 200 pounds over the trail. In order to keep the effects together at night it was thought five miles would be a fair day's work, ten miles of packing 100 pounds and five miles returning, the latter, by comparison, being equivalent to a rest.

Before 6 o'clock the packers started with their first loads, and at 7:30 dumfounded us by returning, stating they had made some four miles. My doubts, however, as to their accuracy were confirmed when later the four miles dwindled down to a scant two; still, I thought to myself, as I wiped the perspiration off my face, I might have deemed it a good half dozen if I had carried 100 pounds over it instead of a camera and a tin cup.

The first part of the trail led through groves of "jack-pine." It is a flexible conifer, if ever there was one, as in many places the Indians had tied trees and branches together to mark the trail. This had been done years before, but the pines had grown right along just the same, and these knots in the bodies of the now large trees, or two lashed together, looked curious enough.

Where we found the first packs there was also camped a Tahku family from the interior, bringing out furs to trade at Juneau. The principal furs of Southeastern Alaska are black, brown and grizzly bear, mink, beaver, land and seamartin, lynx, wolverine, silver, cross and red fox, and occasionally white and blue fox from the lower Yukon.

When the skin of any fur-bearnig animal is dark-colored the fur is poor; the lighter the color the better the pelt. Many Indians, in moments of forgetfulness, will glue loose hairs on long-killed animals just to brighten up the pelts a little bit.

All day we were crossing beautiful mountain rills, with water cold as ice. In the warm dusty days my eye-glasses blurred badly with perspiration. In the Arctic the frozen breath was as bad, and in general the near-sighted explorer is short-sighted for going on a rough trip.

Camp 8 was but four miles from No. 7, but no doubt the packers had done well for the first day. That night I learned a new "wrinkle" on roughing it. I had selected a nice spot in a slight hollow, full of leaves, for making down my bed. It was cut off just right at one end by a log, half buried in the turf, that formed an excellent pillow.

The next morning the Indians were up by 3, and they began cutting firewood from the part of my tree that projected from the slope. There were nine thousand, seven hundred and forty-two logs in the immediate vicinity, all of them dry, while mine was water-soaked, rotten and heavy, but they kept beating a tattoo on it with axes until 5 o'clock, when they got away with the first packs, every mother's son of them stumbling over the only part of the trunk they had not yet cut up.

For the first mile or two the trail that day was strewn with fallen timber. The natives are quite careless with their campfires, and especially the signal smokes they often send up when traveling, to convey intelligence to others far away, and this burnt out timber soon falls, forming an almost impassable network of prostrate trees. How the packers got along so well over this labyrinth of logs surprised me more than my constant falling off of them. I had reserved my hob-nailed shoes for any serious mountain work that might occur, but after slipping off of half the logs, skimming over the slick pine needles in the path, sliding all over the wet moss of the hillsides and essentially skating the whole five miles into camp on the smoothest bottomed shoes I ever wore in my life, I came to the conclusion the serious work had arrived.

Again that day a number of interior fur traders passed us on their way to Juneau. We camped in the evening at the deserted Indian village of Ah-kah-tee. That was one of the toughest days of the trip, the Indians being on the trail from early in the morning until 8 at night. Of course they took long and frequent rests, but I think they were needed ones. That evening several complained of strained tendons, and one of them adopted the heroic treatment of standing half an hour nearly knee-deep in the ice water of the mountain stream.

Next morning it could be noticed that the Indians were getting sore where the pack-straps cut, and some of them were seen to tear up great broad strips of blanketing to make new shoulder straps for packing.

Lunch time on the 4th, saw us but two miles on the trail, coming up to the first packs at the village of Klicknoo (deserted), just above where there is a beautiful waterfall on the river.

That night we camped at a place the Indians call "the pole bridge," where a number of pine poles had been thrown from either shore to meet a high rock in the center of a foaming cataract. These pole bridges are not uncommon on trails, and as the trunks are usually free of bark and slippery with the water that has dashed over them, they are not the pleasantest ways, possible, of crossing a dangerous stream.

That evening the packers did not arrive in a body as usual, but were strung out, according to their strength and endurance, from 5 until 7 o'clock. It was getting clear that some would fail me if the road ahead got any worse or the slightest addition should happen to the labor. That night and the next forenoon, however, a drenching rainstorm gave them a rest they had little expected. They swung out on the trail in the afternoon, but returned to camp, thus having part of their work ahead of them for the first time on the trip.

The Pack Train.

Robert stayed over in camp until the middle of the afternoon, when he started back for the head of canoe navigation, assuring me that he would reach it that night and overtake us next day on the trail. He evidently thought we were making slow progress and that he ought to return for more provisions.

STANDS BY HIS GUNS.

Watterson Still Wants a Western Man.

Is It Possible That the Star-Eyed Goddess Is Writing on Personal Lines.

Louisville, Ky., March 29.—Henry Watterson has the following in the Courier-Journal to-day:

"From first to last the editor of the Courier-Journal has held to one position, namely, that to win Mr. Cleveland must have the united support of New York. On this point he has never wavered, writing column after column to maintain it, and seeking by personal effort to make it good.

"At no time has he been for Hill. On the contrary he has repeatedly given reasons why Gov. Hill should not be the nominee and why he cannot be elected if he is.

"It is strange to see a journal so observant as the Philadelphia Telegraph ignore all these facts in order to make it appear that Mr. Watterson has in any way at any time, on this point, changed his opinion or had any hand in muddling the democratic situation. Exactly the reverse is true.

"Mr. Cleveland stands aloof from the battle. He declines the responsibility of candidacy. He leaves others to say the word. Thus required to cast in an opinion among the rest, we must assert it honestly. Considering the case as it is, and facts as they are, we can see only defeat in Mr. Cleveland's nomination, and in that of Gov. Hill as well, and hence think it best to leave New York out altogether in the selection of a nominee.

"If this be not done we shall look confidently to the vindication of the wisdom of the council which the election will bring, promising that in no event is the prospect very reassuring."

A BOGUS COUNT.

Montreal, March 29.—A number of Montreal society people have been swindled by a sharper who has for some time been living on their credulity, believing his statement that he was the scion of a noble Austrian family.

A titled Austrian lady, who is married to a Montreal doctor, exposed the spurious "count," as he called himself, and the fellow promptly disappeared. The "count" is an Englishman and gave the name of Henry Belmont. It is thought he has gone to the United States.

THE END OF THE WORLD.

Adventists Believe It is Near at Hand.

The Millennium is Almost Within Reach.

The Unusual Signs in the Sky Are Looked Upon as a Warning to People to Pack Up Their Grips.

New York, March 29.—Believers in the second and speedy coming of Christ have been watching the heavens with intense interest for the past few weeks, and point out that the recent celestial phenomena which have been witnessed in different parts of the country all corroborate previous indications and prophecies that the end of the world is at hand.

The signs, as shown in these heavenly exhibitions, they say, have been following each other in rapid succession since the first of the new year. Beginning with the aurora borealis, which was observed about five weeks ago, and was the most notable display of the kind seen in years, they claim that the celestial display seen last week is only a part of a great system which will show that their prophecies are soon to be fulfilled.

These heavenly exhibitions were plainly seen at Bloomington, Ill.; Springfield, Ill.; Geneva, N. Y., and Fort Dodge, Ia.

In the first place mentioned the residents were treated to a most marvellous combination of sundogs, halos, rainbows and crossbars. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a rainbow-like halo was observed above the sun.

Shortly after this two beautiful parallel rainbows were seen joining the lowest point of the halo. Near the horizon and beyond the outside rainbow were two sheets of brilliant prismatic colors. Later there appeared a "crossbar," the arc of an immense circle, clearly defined in white, concentric with the halo above the rainbow and passing through the sun crossed the two rainbows, there being a mock sun of intense brilliancy at each point of juncture.

At Geneva, N. Y., while the phenomenon was not so elaborate, Prof. Brooks, of the Smith observatory there, reported that on the same day of the Bloomington (Ill.) display he observed a streamer of white light resembling a great comet in the western heavens. The streamer rapidly increased in size, moving slowly eastward, passing overhead and disappearing in the eastern sky near Arcturus.

Springfield, Ill., and Fort Dodge, Ia., were treated to equally wonderful displays. In the former place the sun was surrounded by a small halo and on either side appeared a bright sundog, while passing clear around the heavens and cutting through the sun was a bright band.

At Fort Dodge, Ia., a well-defined black cross appeared across the face of the moon. Those who saw it insist that it was not caused by the clouds. It is said that a similar cross was seen just before the war.

Second Adventists all pin their faith on these heavenly displays to a greater or less degree, and in several places in Massachusetts they have been holding revival meetings during the past month preparing for the beginning of the end of all that is worldly and fleeting. Prof. Totten of Yale, one of the most pronounced and best known of the religious body, has even gone so far as to state that the dissolution has commenced and that in a few years this earth will be utterly destroyed, and the end of temporal power will give place to the second coming of Christ and His kingdom. The Second Adventists of New York, however, while asserting that the end is close at hand, continue to hold on to their worldly possessions. The Rev. Wm. N. Pile, who is the leader of the Second Adventists in the city, said to-day: "We believe that the second coming of our Lord is near. How near none of us can tell, nor do we pretend to fix a date, but the signs of the times all bear me out in prophesying this."

"Is this prediction based on the recent heavenly signs?"

"Yes and no. While these signs are not by any means the basis of our belief in the early second coming of Christ, they are so strongly allied to the indications of the Scripture that we accept them as a cogent part of the prophecy. They corroborate what has gone before, and it is impossible to reject them. The world to-day is at, or nearly at, its lowest ebb. I am not a pessimist, for I hope for an almost immediate change in the second coming of our Lord. If you will refer to the Bible, notably Second Timothy, third and fourth chapters; the twenty-fourth of Matthew and other parts of the New Testament, you will plainly see that it predicts the present condition of Christendom. We are living in a divided state from an empire. The nations upon the field of prophesy are in a state of unrest and are supporting millions of men in arms in anticipation of a vast conflict in the near future. Such was the state of the nations at Christ's coming and such is the state to-day. To quote from the Scriptures: 'In the last days perilous times shall come.' In the last days men were to depart from the faith. Atheism, infidelity, anarchy and socialism are increasing and attacking the very foundations of our religious, political and social life. The world presents conditions like those before the flood and the destruction of Sodom, devoting itself to the gratification of the senses and forgetful of God and the coming judgment. There have been more earthquakes since the beginning of this century than since the creation of the world to this century. What do these signs of the times, heavenly and earthly phenomena, political and religious, mean? It means that Christ is coming again soon. His coming may be to-morrow and it may be years hence, but the signs are that it will be soon."

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE

Visited our three stores Saturday, the occasion being our SPRING OPENING. Our friends came in such large numbers that we were unable to meet them all in person as we should have been pleased to do, and to those whom we had not the pleasure of greeting personally we can only say, we hope to see you again soon and frequently.

Our display of Spring Overcoats and Spring Suits, for both men and boys, was unexcelled. Our Children's Department was highly commented on by the hundreds of ladies who visited us. We also have the largest selections of CONFIRMATION SUITS!

To select from. Our Furnishing and Hat Department is complete with all the latest styles.

DEAD IN HER CHAIR.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler Found This Morning.

This morning Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler was found dead in her chair at her home, 37 Vance street. The coroner was notified, and on making an investigation discovered that her death resulted from heart disease. Mrs. Wheeler was 67 years of age.

BONDS SOLD.

By the Council Committee on Ways and Means.

The ways and means committee of the council met last evening in Auditor Walker's office and sold $20,242.18 of Washington street improvement bonds and $3,944.44 Thirteenth street bonds to the Second National bank at par, accrued interest and a premium of $180.

THE ADDRESSES

Of Fred Gross and Mrs. Jane McDoughal Wanted at the Police Station.

Two telegrams were received at the police station this morning, one for Fred Gross, coming from Frank Gross, of Fostoria, announcing that John had died there, and another from South Chicago to Mrs. Jane McDoughal, stating that George had died there and asking what should be done with the remains. Anyone who knows the people addressed should notify the chief of police.

A LITERARY TREAT.

Lectures on Burns and Shelley Provided by the Misses Smead.

The Misses Smead have provided from time to time a number of literary attractions, in the way of lectures, for their pupils and friends. Another such golden opportunity for profitable enjoyment is now offered in the lectures this evening and to-morrow evening, at the Baptist chapel, Woodruff and Ashland avenues. The lecturer being Mr. Leon H. Vincent, no further introduction is needed to Toledo people of culture. This evening he gives a biographical talk on Robert Burns and to-morrow evening on Percy Bysshe Shelley.

A CORPS OF OFFICERS

Elected for the Toledo Soldiers' Memorial Association.

The directors of the Toledo Soldiers' Memorial association met yesterday afternoon, and made choice of the following officers for the present year:

President—John S. Kountz.
First Vice President—Mrs. Martha H. Locke.
Second Vice President—Col. H. G. Neubert.
Treasurer—Wm. T. Walker.
Secretary—Wm. W. Alcorn.

SQUABBLE OVER JEWELRY.

In Which a Chattel Mortgage Figures Quite Extensively.

The jewelry store of Jacob Sherman, at 308 Monroe street, was closed by Constable Green last evening, by the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage amounting to $1,200, in possession of Samuel M. Peck.

In common pleas court to-day Samuel M. Peck filed suit against Cornelius Green, the constable, to gain possession of the stock of jewelry thus attached and prays for $200 damages sustained by being excluded from the possession of the goods.

SPRING HAS COME.

What Makes the Sixth Ward People Sure of It.

Spring is here. If any one doubts it, let him ask the East Side people how they know. They know because the are awakened in the morning by the mating calls of robin and blue bird, and the fortunate ones hear also the piping of the meadow larks. They know because the voice of the frog is heard once more in the marsh lands, and he insists upon it with iteration and reiteration. Finally, they will tell you they are sure of it because when they want to come over to work in the morning or the opera in the evening, the bridge is swung.

TOLEDO APPOINTMENT

To the Agricultural Department—A Newspaper Man Honored.

Mr. Russell J. Thompson, of the Blade staff, yesterday received notice of his appointment for field work in the mammological and ornithological division of the agricultural department at Washington. Mr. Thompson is a young man of sterling merit, and has made a success of his newspaper work in this city. He has also thoroughly fitted himself for the new work which he is now to undertake, and is a very promising scientist. He will leave immediately for Washington.

A THOUSAND TRAVELING MEN

With Their Ladies Coming to Toledo in May.

The Toledo Traveling Men's association is making active preparations for the meeting of the United Commercial Travelers of America, which is to occur in Toledo, Friday and Saturday, May 27 and 28. It is expected that 1,000 members will be in Toledo with their families. Most of them will come from Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. The Toledo members have asked the Toledo passenger committee to make a low rate for the occasion, and this will probably be done at the meeting of the committee this afternoon.

PROMINENT RAILROAD MEN

In the City Fixing Rates on Lime for the Season.

The following prominent railroad men are in the city: M. Knight, St. Louis; D. Lund, St. Louis; C. G. Wylie, St. Louis; L. Fox, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Wm. J. Seinwerth, Cincinnati; P. Langdon, Cincinnati; B. F. Crawford, Mansfield; S. S. Marion, Pittsburg; C. E. Ramsey, Pittsburg; G. W. Heathman, Dayton; A. Taggart, Indianapolis; W. L. Cromlish, general freight agent of the Pittsburg & Western; C. S. Wight, general freight agent of the B. & O.; T. W. Gallagher, of Pittsburg; E. M. Davis, of Tiffin, and S. B. Knight, general freight agent of the Wabash.

They are in the city attending a meeting of the newly appointed lime committee of the Central Traffic association and are fixing lime rates from the various lime producing districts for the coming season.

TOLEDO YACHT CLUB.

Annual Election of Officers—It Is Commodore Potter.

The annual meeting of the Ohio Yacht club was held last evening, and besides other interesting business the following officers were elected for the coming year: Commodore, E. D. Potter; vice commodore, William Gates; rear commodore, R. P. Mathias; fleet captain, Cassius M. Foster; secretary, H. S. Bissell; treasurer, Geo. A. Weber; measurer, J. W. Hepburn; fleet surgeon, Walter Brand; assistant secretary, C. E. L. Weber; board of directors, L. Mathias, George P. Brailey, A. P. Crane, F. R. Frey, William Gates, J. W. Hepburn and L. J. Kellar.

The question of chartering a steamer to run between Gard Island, Edgewater and the city was discussed and favored by the club. George A. Weber was appointed a committee of one to look into the matter.

ANOTHER DAMAGE SUIT

Filed Against the Ann Arbor Road in the Common Pleas.

G. Adam Meissner, administrator of the estate of Andreas Ilg, sued the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan Railroad company in common pleas court today to recover $10,000 damages for the death of deceased, alleged to have been caused by the carelessness and neglect of the defendant.

THE CYCLING CLUB

A CUSTOMER ROBBED

By Another Customer in a Summit Street Clothing Store.

Wm. V. Edwards went into the clothing store at 29 Summit street yesterday afternoon to buy a pair of pants. He went into a back room to try a pair on, took off his own and left them there while he went out in the store again. Just then another customer, Chas. Jones, from Rochester, Mich., came in to buy pants and went into the back room to try a pair on. He saw the pants of customer number one laying there and he went through them and skipped out, taking a pocketbook and $7.50. Detectives Spore and Nichter were put on the case and caught the thief in short order. Jones was fined $25 in the police court this morning. Edwards, the complainant, has an eye for business, as after the case was concluded he tried to sell Chief O'Dwyer a bottle of headache cure for which he was agent. It's a smart man that can turn anything into business.

A RAILROAD TICKET

That Figures in Supreme Court from Toledo.

A motion for leave to file a petition in error to the circuit court of Lucas county in the case of the state of Ohio against Foster E. Simmons, was to-day filed in supreme court. Simmons was indicted for changing the date on a Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway ticket from Toledo to Bryan, from April 27 to June 27, 1891. He sold the ticket, worth $1.40, to Walter K. Hadley, of Toledo. The common pleas and circuit courts sustained a demurrer in the indictment, and the prosecutor, J. A. Barber, charges that the lower courts erred in dismissing the indictment, because it involves the constitutionality of section 7316. The circuit court held that it had no right to review the matter thus dismissed by the common pleas court and to this point said section refers.—Columbus Post, 28th.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

One Session Plan Lost Once More—Arbor Day—Resignation.

The board of education met last evening.

The clerk read a communication from Daniel W. Clough, soliciting an increase in wages. He showed that he only received $38.45 a month, and of which he paid $2 a month for scrubbing. No action was taken.

A petition signed by 180 boys of the Stickney avenue school requested that Arbor day be celebrated by sodding the yard about the Stickney avenue school building. Nothing was said about expenses, and the matter was laid over until it could be ascertained whether the boys were to do the work or the board hire it done.

Miss Lillian Bramwell, teacher in the fourth grade of the Stickney avenue school, submitted her resignation, which was accepted.

The one session plan was discussed for some time, and when put to a vote was lost.

An order for $4,830 due on interest coupons was approved.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL.

Five Acres on Putnam Bought by a Syndicate.

The Consideration $50,000—The Tract to be Platted and Sold for Residence Purposes.

The five acres of land on Machen street, running from Putnam to Warren streets and known as the Garrett property, has been purchased by C. T. Lewis for the Ricks-Doyle syndicate.

The property is very desirable for residence locations, and will be at once platted and placed on the market. The consideration was $50,000.

The syndicate has been after 15 more acres in the immediate vicinity, but so far has been unable to reach it.

The sale was made Saturday, but not completed until yesterday.

AUTHORS' CARNIVAL.

The ladies' society of the First Presbyterian church will give an entertainment in the church parlors, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, March 29 and 30, entitled "The Authors' Carnival." A large number of authors and characters are expected to appear. A "Dream of Fair Women," with recitations, will be given, together with numerous other objects of interest. Admission, 10 cents. Supper served at 6:30—25 cents extra.

SOLONS OF A STATE.

What They Find to Do in Columbus.

Sherman Men on Top Once More.

Legislators Busily Engaged Loading the Statutes Down With Special Legislation.

Columbus, March 29.—The nomination of William Kirkby, of Toledo, and the immediate confirmation by the senate has caused the Foraker faction in this city to rise up and gnash its teeth, and feel glad when it reflects on how Griffin downed McKinley.

The battle is only commenced.

The state convention will be a Donnybrook.

More Appointments.

Gov. McKinley to-day appointed Thaddeus E. Conley, Pickaway county, trustee of the boys' industrial school, vice Dan Wolf, resigned. The senate confirmed the same on account of his having been a member af the house. The governor also appointed Cyrus V. Osborn, of Montgomery county, commissioner of fish and game, vice Emery D. Potter, of Lucas county, term expired.

His appointment was referred to committee on fish culture and game.

Cincinnati Water Works.

The senate recessed at noon without calling up the pending motion to reconsider the vote by which the Cincinnati water works bill was passed. Those members who will vote for the motion were absent this morning, but will be present this afternoon, but action will be postponed for one week.

Honored Dan Ryan.

The world's fair commissioners held a meeting this morning in the office of the state board of agriculture and elected Secretary of State Ryan as the executive commissioner.

Paroles to be Limited.

The senate passed to-day a bill which is intended to limit the granting of paroles by the board of managers of the penitentiary. It requires instead of a majority there shall be a unanimous vote on each application for a parole in order that it may be grade.

Paying the Damage.

The senate has passed Mr. Stewart's bill appropriating $500 to pay A. W. Meeker, of Huron, Erie county, for damages by fire caused by the members of the First artillery, National Guard, last summer while in camp.

Natural Gas Case.

In the case of the state ex rel. attorney general v. the Van Wert Natural Gas company in quo warranto, the demurrer to the petition was sustained, the court holding that an injunction would have been the right procedure to compel the company to comply with the ordinance.

A Griffin Bill.

A house bill of Mr. Griffin's was passed which authorizes the superintendent of insurance to pay the expense of collecting fees out of the amount so collected. At present he turns the whole amount collected into the state treasury.

The house bill by Mr. Molter was passed which amends section 2702 in such a way as to eliminate the requirement that city clerks shall certify that sufficient cash is in the treasury in condemnation proceedings in which bonds are issued.

Bills Passed the House.

Mr. Van Cleaf—Providing for removal of bodies from abandoned burial grounds in public highways.

Boxwell—Appropriating $135,000 to pay deficiencies.

Mr. Taylor, for the finance committee—Appropriating $5,000 to meet deficiency for construction of Woman's Relief Corps building, Madison, Lake county.

Mr. Carpenter (Meigs)—Reducing number of officials at penitentiary and legalizing appointment of others by the board of managers.

Notes.

Mr. Garber—of Dark, introduced a bill yesterday to provide for liens upon tenants' property for unpaid rent.

Mr. McClure introduced a number of bills of interest to his Putnam county constituents yesterday yesterday afternoon, and they are as follows:

Senator Hildebrand yesterday afternoon introduced a bill providing that punishment for misdemeanors shall be doubled after repeated convictions.

Senator Gear (by request) yesterday afternoon introduced a bill to prevent deception in the sale of dairy products and to preserve the public health.

The governor yesterday appointed W. T. Lewis, of Martin's Ferry, Belmont county, commissioner of labor statistics for the term ending in March, 1894.

McClure's bill authorizing trustees of Union township, Putnam county, to levy 4 mills tax for 15 years to improve roads passed the house yesterday afternoon

When the bill introduced by Senator Shaw authorizing Goshen township, Auglaize county, to issue $4,000 in bonds is passed there will be a new school house erected.

Senator Brown yesterday introduced a bill amending section 5180 of the revised statutes, providing that all honorably discharged soldiers shall be exempt from jury duty.

Senator Van Cleaf introduced a meritorious bill in the senate yesterday afternoon, providing for the appointment of a non-partisan jury commission of two members in each county.

Representative Kelly yesterday afternoon introduced a bill amendatory and supplementary to an act to provide for construction of free turnpikes in Ottawa county, so as to permit the township trustees to order the improvements without securing a petition from a majority of property owners.

Increasing turnpike levy, Union township, Putnam county, 4 mills; authorizing Blanchard township to issue $4,000 for cemetery purposes; Ottawa township to issue $5,000 bonds for school purposes; authorizing Miller City to add territory so as to make a special school district; authorizing Miller City to issue $800 to finish school house.

THE MODEL

Clothing House, Corner Summit and Madison Streets, Introduces to the Public a New Department with a Grand Opening.

Saturday was a great day with Messrs. Nellis & Hattenbach, of the Model Clothing House, and from front and rear, from display windows to the stock room, from store boy to proprietor, all wore a gala day appearance.

At the Summit street front was displayed a series of signs exceeding in originality of design and conception anything ever seen here, there being six in all—two for each store. These represent a tiger's head perfectly, the colors carrying out and perfecting the imitation.

Inside there were potted plants and cut flowers everywhere, while immense wreaths of evergreen were gracefully festooned from pillar and arch, and from the ceilings hung an innumerable display of Japanese parasols, umbrellas and decorations of various kinds, the chandeliers bearing scores of miniature flags. The office entrance was hedged in by pots of Easter lilies in full bloom exuding their rare perfume throughout the entire children's department. Visitors met with a pleasant reception from the proprietors so far as it was possible for them to meet the small army of friends who poured in and out all day long, each departing with some souvenir of the "spring opening," either in the shape of choice cut flowers, buttonieres or handsome morocco covered vest pocket memorandums. The firm's eastern friends remember them bounteously and numerous gifts and happy reminders of the occasion were received, among them a mammoth red and gold necktie 16 inches wide by 28 long, a beautiful floral horse shoe, a large and costly mirror, a rich and beautiful pair of bronze statues, with vases and flowers in profusion.

The firm of Nellis & Hattenbach may well feel proud of the success of their opening day and of the beautiful, bright and cheerful appearance of their enlarged quarters.

RAILWAY WRECKS.

An Invention Which is to Do Away With Them.

Electrical Application Without Complications—A Scheme That Will be Gladly Welcomed by the Traveling Public.

A prominent citizen of Toledo has filed an application for a patent on an invention to prevent railway wrecks by collision, either head or rear, and open switches.

The object of the invention is accomplished by an electrical application, simple and devoid of the mechanical attachments and complications so often fatal to the success of inventions.

The plan is not unlike the trolley electric street railway system and the secret lies in the open and close of an electric current.

A light rail is laid in the center of the track on a wooden rail of proper dimensions. Between the rail and its foundation is placed an insulation of some kind, cheap, but effective.

The track is then divided into sections of one mile each, the middle rail being separated a trifle.

The locomotives are equipped with a storage battery placed in a case under the cab seats. This battery has a capacity equal to any trip made by the slowest of freight trains.

Connected with this battery a trolley extends to the single rail below, and is held in position by a spring, as with the street cars. When two engines are on the same mile or section of middle rail, the circuit is complete and the gong sounds in both engines, thereby warning the engineers of the presence of each other, and they are consequently on the outlook for danger and prepared to avoid accident.

As to switches, a burr extends from the outer rail of the switch, and when this is misplaced the burr connects with the center rail and completes the circuit. The gong in the cab of any locomotive on the section wherein the switch is misplaced rings and warns the engineer of his danger.

INSPECTOR HORR

Spends the Winter Over in Canada

Looking After Cedar Business for the Government—Toledo Customs Office Picks Up a Few Dollars.

Special Agent R. A. Horr, of the United States treasury department, is in the city to-day, on business touching the importation of cedar ties. The Cleveland Cedar company have been importing vast quantities of ties from Canada at the various lake ports and entering them up 10 and 5 cents (the last price being for culls). The present collector, Judge Austin, soon after coming into office in July, had brought to his attention the fact that the ties were being entered for duty at less than "market price in the country producing same." Investigations made resulted in his raising price to 14 and 7 cents. The cedar company made vigorous fight and appealed to the board of government appraisers at New York. The latter sustained Austin and raised price to 15 cents for first quality ties. Now the government requires the cedar company to go back and pay shortage on all entries, which with Toledo office amounts to several thousand dollars.

Mr. Horr has just returned after spending the winter in the cedar swamps of Canada, where he had been inspecting the price of cedar for the government. In conversation with a Bee Mr. Horr said:

At its best Canada as a rule is a barren, desolate country to a man who has been living in civilization and then to go up there in the swamps in winter. You can probably imagine that it was no pleasure jaunt. I traveled over 400 miles, through snow, or rather over snow, and ice by sled. Everything is cheaper in Canada except railroad fare and that costs more than in the United States. From what I learned during my visit among the people, I have concluded that Canada wants the United States more than the United States wants Canada.

"England resorts to all sorts of schemes to impress the subjects of her great strength and superiority over the United States. They have large oil paintings posted about the country in conspicuous places showing the United States meekly sneaking away from Canada, fear-stricken at the sight of the roaring lion which rears in all his fierceness to protect its sovereignity. Still the natives and even the office holders under the crown predict that the destiny of Canada in the future is civil government under the administration of the United States.

NOT GOING TO TALK.

The Building Trades Council and the Newspapers.

For the Present the Council Proceedings Will be Secret—Interesting Meeting of L. A. 1942.

Last night's meeting of the Building Trades council was an interesting one, as it promised to be. The resolutions condemnatory of secret and anti-labor organizations, which have already been given the press, were introduced. The action taken upon them must be for the present a matter of conjecture, as the council has decided to keep its proceedings secret. It was the debate upon this point that was the most animated part of the session.

A number of the delegates, realizing that the city press has always given friendly notice of the business of the unions, thought it was a short-sighted policy that was advocated. They reasoned that the free notices of meetings, lectures, entertainments and other enterprises which the unions always have had from the press depend upon their furnishing the papers with legitimate news. Every labor organization has business it does not tell, and is not expected to tell, but it does not look well when such an organization insists upon undue and unnecessary secresy, these delegates thought.

On the other hand, delegates pointed out that the reporter of one evening paper had manufactured interviews, used the names of union men without authority, and magnified the troubles which now and then occur in all organizations. The decision arrived at was, as said, to keep the proceedings of the meetings absolutely secret.

It is, of course, easier to make this ruling than to enforce it, and some of the delegates see no reason why they should not say all they want to, to a reporter or another. From talk with union men this morning a Bee ascertained that delegates were told each union ought to act for itself in the matter of disloyal members, and not bring the matter to a central body. This seems reasonable, and it is the course one union at least has pursued, and others will follow. Members must keep their union pledge or leave the union.

Removing this bone of contention from the council is all right. At the same time it is said if all the unions act as outlined above, the council will have fewer delegates, and will change some of its officers.

An Interesting Debate.

There was a good attendance last evening at the meeting of L. A. 3942, K. of L. Routine business was rapidly disposed of, and the rest of the time given to a debate upon the question: "Should not all public officers, national, state and municipal, be elected by the direct vote of the people?" A number of good speeches were made, and the decision of the majority was in the affirmative.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The republican city convention will meet this evening.

For the past two or three days city water appears to run largely to mud.

Cadet Veterans elect officers at the annual meeting next Friday night at Elks' hall.

An adjourned meeting of the Memorial day committee will be held in Room 9, Custom house, to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Wire is being placed on Adams street west of Michigan by the Consolidated Street Railroad company for an electric system.

The Elks will hold their annual election of officers this evening. Messrs. Moore and McMaken are candidates for the office of exalted ruler.

Sheriff Stuart to-day received a circular from the Pinkerton detective agency of Chicago, offering $1,000 reward for the arrest of the Coldwater bank robbers.

The Robisons began double tracking Twenty-second street last night at midnight and will finish to-day so that cars will not be delayed any length of time.

As was stated in the Bee yesterday, a man named McKinley was arrested while wandering about the street in a demented condition. Papers were found on his person showing that he was from Warsaw. Sheriff Stuart wired the authorities of that city, and to-day received a reply to hold McKinley, that he would be sent for.

If our esteemed republican exchanges want to make all possible points against "the 70-cent dollar," they should not forget to mention that it is a republican dollar.

Germany wants more space in the world's fair grounds, although the space already assigned is more than that country has used in any previous world's exposition. It is going to be what Americans are supposed to call "a big show, and no mistake."

Chairman Sullivan is doing splendid work in the city campaign, as he always does, and he has a good committee to assist him. Their efforts should be seconded by all democrats. Get out the full vote for the city and ward tickets, and democratic success will be assured.

The people of Toledo have unlimited confidence in Hon. John H. Puck. He has been faithful to every trust confided to his care, and he is broad-minded and liberal in all things. He is the proper person to elect to the board of police commissioners, and it is the general opinion that he will be elected next Monday.

Compare the candidates on the democratic ticket man for man with the republican candidates, and the opinion will clearly be that the democrats are every way the best for the present situation in Toledo. At no other time for ten years was a change so necessary, and never before did the democrats present a better ticket. The democrats deserve success this year, and it is very probable the whole ticket will be elected.

Minister Ribot offers assurance that France would meet the United States, in matters of reciprocity, "by equal concessions, even to the point of free trade." The French minister appears not to be aware that this administration is not sincere in its professions of a desire to establish equitable trade relations with other nations. The little game of reciprocity-with-a-string-to-it is beneath the dignity of any nation, but Messrs. Blaine and Harrison are playing it. Minister Ribot uses "scare words" when he talks of "free trade." He will not be met half way.

If any one has doubts as to the position of "the party of moral ideas" on the question of the liquor traffic, such an one should read up on the proceedings of the Iowa republican legislators during the late effort to repeal the prohibition law in that state. The senate passed the bill, and the republican senators who voted for repeal stated they did so because "convinced that the party has lost the state in two elections on account of prohibition." In the house the republicans stood by the statute, and explained that they "dared not risk losing the prohibition vote." Great is the force of the "moral" idea, in determining this vote, on both sides the question.

Two million bales of surplus cotton and all the capital and labor that went into its production a loss. The cry of the old and false political economy is raised of "over-production," and the remedy (?) suggested is that the cotton raising of next year shall be limited, and the planters shall devote some of the cotton lands to other crops. Since the world was peopled there has never been an over-production of any good thing. There is often a failure to sell products, resulting from limited ability to distribute the thing produced, to get it to the market where there is demand for it. And now and always the failure to secure a market results from artificial restrictions upon trade, the building up of legislative barriers to interfere with the natural channel of supply and demand.

The Bee has heretofore refrained from editorial comment upon the astounding statements derogatory to our public schools which were made in the sessions of the "Social Purity conference" held in this city last week. We were confident that public sentiment from our best citizens would sufficiently rebuke these calumnies. In another column will be found the expression of this sentiment from a lady who, as she writes, has been a pupil and teacher in the public schools, and who, as she is too modest to say, is a model mother. It was not alone the preacher whom she criticises who condemned our public schools, but the same course was pursued by almost every one who took part in the conference. And yet this "conference" was held under the auspices of an organization which professes great alarm lest our public schools shall be injured by other influences.

In the late republican state convention in Indiana the following little piece was spoken by a delegate:

"As a miner from Clay county, speaking for thousands of coal miners, I desire to cast the whole vote of Clay in favor of instructing for Ben. Harrison, because he has always been the friend of the miner, and has done more for them than any other president."

And how the rest of the delegates did yell, and how diligently the high-tax organs have scattered the saying abroad, as "the voice of labor." But behold, one of these irrepressible newspaper men who are cynics as to gush and have seen too many clap-trap performances to be taken in by one, has looked up the business and record of this speaker "for thousands of miners." His name is Welton, and he never mined an ounce of coal. He is superintendent of the Eureka mine, in Clay county, and not a popular boss, either. Harrison must be hard pressed for "labor" indorsement.

MAKE A CHANGE.

The citizens of Toledo will have opportunity next Monday to effect a reform in municipal administration. Affairs have been running at loose ends too long in this city and everybody knows it. The extravagance of the common council is without precedent and the way the debt has piled up is astonishing. The recklessness of the past is assurance that extravagance will continue if the republicans continue in control of the council. The way to correct the evil is by retiring the whole crowd. Try new men and new methods. The change can't be worse and hardly can be so bad. This is the logic of the present municipal situation. It touches the pocket books rather than the politics of the people.

OHIO REPUBLICANISM.

If the republican party of Ohio stands for anything more than a sandbagging lot of disturbers of the peace, appearances are mighty deceitful. Whatever of principle there is in the party is completely hidden beneath the personal disposition to whack some body or some thing. The peace and unity and harmony which is spread like a mustard paste over the organization on occasion is a temporary expedient only. The disease is too deep seated for external counter irritants.

If an example were needed the whole chapter of assault and assassination could be illustrated by the treatment of Gov. McKinley at the meeting of the republican central committee last week, on which occasion a temporary chairman for the forthcoming state convention was selected. The Governor's name was proposed. No matter how grievous the differences, in committee or out of committee, the mere mention of the name of a governor ought to impel the most graceful acquiescence in the selection of so distinguished a citizen for the chairmanship. In this state especially so, as the Governor is not only Ohio-distinguished, but he is a national character who represents in the completest sense the only principle for which the republican party contends today. He is the embodiment of the protective idea, the Prince of Protection. Yet, so ugly, so mendacious, so vindictive, so revengeful, so hateful, is the republican party in Ohio in its latter day of degeneracy, that the Governor is not only humiliated by defeat for this empty honor, but the plotters make merry over his discomfiture and run the black flag higher up the halyard of defiance.

When the storm of self-hate calms down the sandbaggers are content to slug democrats, but the leaders sacrifice principle, honor and party manhood just as quickly to club themselves. They are land pirates all the time. The present work of the road agents is the fine art of the accomplished highwayman. No explanation of the organs makes the practices of the sluggers more respectable. It is past respect, and the good people of Ohio are about ready to turn the state over to the democrats where it belongs, and where good politics prevail.

THE RUSSIAN OUTLOOK.

"Stepniak" writes in the current Fortnightly Review of the possible political results of the famine in Russia. He believes the towns of Russia have been ready for revolt for the last twenty years, but unable to effect that end because of the passiveness of the peasants; that the army is no safe dependance for the throne, being honeycombed with revolutionaries, so much so that in all recently discovered plots men high in command of its forces have been involved; and that now rioting in the famine-stricken provinces has begun, all these destructive elements may suddenly fuse at any time.

Stepniak's well known views render his prognostications of less worth than would otherwise attach to them. With him no doubt "the wish is father to the thought." But the outlook is sufficiently gloomy to make such result as he forecasts a probable one.

The millions that are flowing into Russia can serve only to keep the peasantry from starvation until the next harvest. Much depends upon what that harvest will yield. The government, Stepniak believes, is now doing its best in all directions, especially in the attempt to direct the spring sowing. But the climate may again be unfavorable. Cattle are scarce, and the men and women who till the ground together are in no condition to do the work. If plague follows famine, who will raise the crops?

With the most extensive agricultural lands in the world, and the most arable soil in Europe, Russia faces a most awful condition for her people and a most dangerous for the government. "Bankruptcy if not revolution," is what Stepniak foresees. The political system is the groundroot of all this fearful physical and social disease. No civilized nation dare regret its overthrow, if it cannot be reformed.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

The selection of Mr. William Kirkby, of Toledo, as Railroad Commissioner of Ohio is creditable to the present state administration. It is one of the exceptions of official appointment where a man is promoted from the ranks. Mr. Kirkby is a practical, working railroad man—a train man of large experience. Thoroughly competent, he will administer the office with fidelity and in the interest of the public. In his candidacy for the office Mr. Kirkby had the well wishes of all the Toledo newspapers whose influence is worth having, and they congratulate him upon his success. Mr. Kirkby has always been a friend of the newspapers, and has now practically learned that it was good investment, which cost nothing but good nature and good will.

England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland spent for spirits and beer in the year 1891 the sum of 141,250,000 pounds, and yet Lady Somerset found time and occasion to preach temperance to the people of the United States. Perhaps she despaired of effecting any reform at home, and took up with an easier job.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That a light vote is anticipated at next Monday's election.

That there is scarcely any doubt about the democrats controlling the next city council.

That the candidates are calling on their friends this week with a view to securing support.

That the movement of tugs about the river is evidence of an opening of navigation shortly.

That a live business man like Mr. J. H. Puck will be a valuable addition to the police board.

That some fine horses will be seen in Toledo next month at the Newton & Carter stock sale.

That W. H. Tucker will make the race for mayor at the conclusion of Mr. Emmick's two years.

That the smelting furnace so many times talked of should be built in Toledo; it is badly needed.

That Litz, the hermit, is looking for Herman Baumbach. The former claims Herman defamed him.

That the rolling mill is unable to keep up with its orders, notwithstanding there are forces working day and night.

That the Cornell Glee club appears in Toledo next Tuesday evening, when comparison with Ann Arbor will be in order.

That Charley Griffin will make the effort of his life in his speech as temporary chairman of the republican state convention.

That coroner Beckwith has not made a fortune out of his office thus far; Coroner Roulet did all the business before he retired.

That republican candidates are engaged in a big kick on the size of the assessments made on them by the city committee.

That the East Toledo Episcopal church is on the lookout for another rector since Mr. Mabley, of Cleveland, has declined the call.

That newspaper people would rejoice if the anonymous signature was done away with entirely; it is a bad practice and ought to stop.

That a Toledo boy will manage the weather bureau in a few days, when the finest of weather for base ball, etc., will be given out daily.

That the First ward shows the greatest addition to the voters' list at the last two registration days, 267 being the number. The Eighth was next with 249.

That the pleasure boat managers, it is hoped, will make arrangements to land and take up passengers at the Magnolia street dock the coming summer.

That the Methodists of the city will gather in a monster social at St. Paul's on April 6, and give Broadway charge a boom in their efforts to construct a new building.

That it is time the preliminary steps were being taken for the organization of that real estate exchange, since all the dealers have expressed themselves in favor of the project.

That Toledo has finally secured a plum in the railroad commissionership, William Kirkby getting there with both feet, and Jim Brown appears to have had a hand in the deal which brought it about.

That the time is now when partisan politics should be put away and the city's good consulted by making a change in the powers which have brought financial distress to all the departments of Toledo's government.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Mr. Brown Makes an Explanation.

To the Editor: The following is taken from your issue of yesterday, and having appeared in some local papers would seem to require notice. The quotation was originally credited to a Washington paper, viz.:

LOCATE IT, PLEASE.

A New Tin Manufactory Established in Toledo.

Saturday's Canton Repository has the following relative to a discovery made by Postmaster Brown. The newspapers are always glad to note the establishment of new manufactories, but this one must have escaped notice. Where is it?

Hon. J. M. Brown, of Toledo, a widely known Ohio republican, talked last week regarding the outlook for business in that part of the country, and pronounced it most promising. "We had had a manufactory on a large scale of tinware in Toledo for a number of years," said Mr. Brown: "the tariff on tin plate has not interrupted the prosperous progress of this enterprise, and since the passage of the McKinley law, a new factory devoted to the same line has been established in the city."

While in Washington I was asked by a newspaper man, formerly from Toledo, about several of our manufacturing establishments, among which was the tinware establishment of E. P. Breckinridge & Co. I announced that it presented all the appearances of a money-making and successful business—that it had made money from the time Mr. Breckinridge took hold of it, and several times he had enlarged its capacity, and that I understood he was now contemplating the erection of a new factory. This is in substance all that was said on the subject of tin.

JAMES M. BROWN.

Toledo, March 29.

A MISSOURI BOY.

Great Success of Rev. Mr. Mansur, Who Has Held Revivals in Iowa.

Ottumwa, Ia., March 29—Sam Jones has a dangerous rival in the person of Rev. Mr. Mansur, who for 10 days has been stirring up the people of Albia with a revival in a most wonderful manner.

He is a Christian, or "Campbellite," and the church where he has been holding revivals has been crowded to its fullest capacity nightly, while dozens of converts have been reported at every meeting.

Already 125 have been converted and received into the church, and no one knows where the movement would have stopped had not the young divine been called to Chicago to accept the pastorate of a leading church. He leaves for that city tonight, though he is loth to go and the people hate to lose him from Albia.

Rev Mr. Mansur was born and raised in Missouri, where his father is now state librarian. He is but 23 years of age and has a great future before him.

TO ENTER A TRUST.

New York, March 29.—It is said that Marvin, Herring and Hall safe companies are about to form a trust. The story is that the three companies, who have several times been in negotiation with this purpose in view, have at length agreed upon a satisfactory basis of compact.

THE SPRING CAMPAIGN.

Notes Here and There About the City and in the Wards.

E. A. Streight, of the Fifth ward, was placed on a ticket for delegate at the recent primary election without consultation with him. He called at the Bee office last evening and requested the insertion of the following card:

I wish to state that my name was placed on the democratic ticket as a delegate to the city convention without my knowledge or consent, and that I do not wish to take a hand in political or religious affairs, as I have plenty to do to attend to my business.

A. E. STREIGHT.

Reynold Voit's friends will not be very active in the support of Councilman Albrecht, who is up for re-election in the Seventh ward. It was he who led the republican revolt in the council against Voit's confirmation as gas trustee, and held it up for two months.

George W. Leibius is making a winning race for police clerk. He will be elected.

The importance of good management of the public schools is made more apparent every day. The democratic ward caucuses made note of this fact, and named their best men. Messrs. Sam Kohn, Chas. Zirwas, Harrison Hathaway and Arion E. Wilson are first-class citizens. Elect them.

Frank Hake has lost ground every day since the caucus in the Sixth ward, and of right ought to. His democratic competitor, Sanford W. Cook, is a leading business man of the East Side, and is vastly superior to him in every respect. Vote for Cook.

W. R. Hodge is pretty certain to defeat George Roulet in the Seventh ward if the democratic vote is polled. Get out the vote.

Mr. Doville is defeated already for police commissioner. Note the prediction.

Alderman Graham's friends will make answer next Monday to the assaults made on him.

The question remains unanswered why Phil Hassenzahl desires to get out of the council board into the aldermen.

There is much dissatisfaction at Street Commissioner Bower's appointments for foremen, especially with Charles Ulrich, in the Seventh ward. The selection has been condemned frequently, but without avail. Next Monday a quietus will be put on Ulrich, and Bower, too.

Mr. John H. Puck is receiving the support of business men in general, and will be elected without doubt. A better selection could not have been made by the democratic city convention, and the work will be indorsed at the polls.

Louis Steuer, the democratic nominee for street commissioner, is making a canvass among the people this week, and makes friends wherever he goes. The office ought to be given Mr. Steuer for the interests of the city and its streets.

The democratic nominees for the aldermanic and council boards are all well informed citizens, and every one of them should be triumphantly elected.

DID NOT LYNCH HIM.

A Texas Negro Placed in Jail for an Assault on a Little Child.

Waco, Tex., March 29.—At Mart, in this county, last Friday, as little Pearl Day, the 5-year old daughter of Geo. Day, a farmer, was playing out in the yard, John Reed, a negro farm hand on a farm in the vicinity, rode up on his horse and asked Pearl to take a ride, which she did.

They rode for a distance into the woods where he brutally assaulted her. He took the little girl within a short distance of her home and turned her loose. When the facts became known her father, accompanied by neighbors and the majority of the colored citizens in that vicinity, started in pursuit.

They ransacked the woods for two days and nights and finally found their victim in the hollow of an old tree. He prayed for mercy and many threats of lynching were made, but the more conservative said to spare his life. He was brought here and placed in jail.

HILL AGAIN.

Senator Hill, in a little talk in South Carolina on his recent trip, playfully said that Reed's ruling that a man whose presence is necessary to constitute a legal quorum cannot destroy the quorum by simply failing to answer to his name on roll call while sitting in full view of the presiding officer was stolen bodily from him; that he saw the boys were enjoying themselves in pitching into Reed and he kept still.

Your republican neighbors seem to have a plentiful lack of correct information on this subject as well as on all others connected with that distinguished statesman. The Blade asks Hill if he can swear to this, and the Commercial plainly charges him with falsehood.

Now, if either of these astute editors had as good memory for facts as they have for the railing, random accusations against Senator Hill they would remember that Speaker Reed, in his defense, quoted no other precedent but this identical ruling of Lieut.-Gov. Hill on this subject. This is a fair specimen of the republican talk about Senator Hill, which, I am sorry to say, so many democrats are inclined to swallow.

Lieut.-Gov. Hill assumed this common sense position, and Reed, finding it useful for his purposes, took it boldly and bodily from Hill, and the supreme court of the United States unanimously sustained it, and now the republican brethren deny that he ever made such a ruling.

The republicans attempted to steal the senate of New York by the grossest bribery of voters and by tampering with the returns.

Gov. Hill proposed to submit the whole question to the court of last resort but the republicans preferred to submit it to the infamous Barnard who had been sent from New York city to prevent his selling his decisions or using his position to protect his rings. Hill compelled them to go to the court of appeals which sustained him in all his positions, giving the democrats the legislature which had been for years controlled by the republicans in plain, open violation of law.

Still the republicans keep on charging him with stealing the legislature which the court of last resort gave to the democrats, and denying that he made the ruling now made famous by the ruling of the supreme court, and certain foolish democrats are giving aid and comfort to the enemy by repeating those stale falsehoods.

HE GOT TEN MILLION.

Timothy Hopkins Came Out on Top.

He Had Damaging Evidence and Sold It on the Market at Par Value.

New York, March 29.—A World's Pittsfield (Mass.) special says: Did Timothy Hopkins receive $3,000,000 or $10,000,000 to settle the contest of the will of his foster-mother, the late Mrs. E. F. Searles?

Down at Great Barrington, where Kellogg Terrace, the $2,000,000 home that the widow of Mark Hopkins built, but scarcely occupied, stands deserted, it is whispered that the demand for $10,000,000 has been acceded to. A lady who had often been the guest of Mrs. Hopkins before she became Mrs. Searles said that she knew that Searles had paid Hopkins $10,000,000. Hopkins wanted $12,600,000 at first, that being supposed to be about half the value of the estate. He finally dropped to $10,000,000, and Mrs. Searles was willing to settle for that amount, for, she said, Hopkins had some damaging evidence to produce had the case gone on.

COMMISSIONER KIRKBY.

His Appointment Confirmed by the Senate.

A Brief Sketch of His Career as a Railroad Man—The Appointment Gives General Satisfaction.

Wm. Kirkby, of Toledo, who has been appointed state railroad commissioner, is a man in every way fitted to fill the office. He is a practical railroad man, a good business man and a thorough gentleman. Mr. Kirkby was born in Cambridge, England, and came to this country when but 4 years of age. He is in his 48th year, and was engaged in railroading for over 27 years, having commenced in that line when but 14 years old, on a section of the Wabash. He climbed the rounds one by one working as brakeman, baggagemaster, freight conductor and finally was made general yardmaster at Toledo. Later he held the same position at Fort Wayne. In 1872 he was appointed trainmaster of the Ohio division of the Wabash. He afterwards went with the C., H. & D. as general yardmaster at Toledo, a position he held until 1886.

Mr. Kirkby has been appointed six consecutive times as infirmary director. That he is a great favorite in railway circles will be shown by the fact that he holds the position of vice president of the National Association of Yardmasters, and the clause of the constitution referring to the fact that none but active railroad men were eligible for the office, was suspended, that he might be elected.

Mr. Kirkby's appointment gives general satisfaction in railroad circles, and among Toledoans in general. His mail to-day brought in an abundance of congratulations.

WHO SHALL KEEP THE CHILDREN PURE?

To the Editor: It is possibly a little late to notice Mr. Hopkins' remarks on the subject of social purity, but the lasting impression made by them will account for the date.

Apparently the gentleman was in haste to make the most of his opportunity to elaborate a hitherto forbidden subject, and did not pause, either to weigh his words or to acquaint himself with the facts.

For over thirty years I have been connected with the public schools of Ohio as pupil, as teacher, and now as mother of children in attendance upon them.

It is true that we find evidences of vice and evil habits in some pupils of every grade, but this is owing to inherited evil tendencies and to want of proper home training, and not at all to the mere fact that they are pupils in the public schools.

The teachers have not been waiting all these years for Mr. Hopkins, not for "a reputable citizen," to instruct them in their duty in this matter. Not a woman teacher exists to-day in Toledo who has not delivered many a lecture on social purity, albeit without the publicity which Mr. Hopkins finds so satisfactory. But teachers are powerless without the cooperation of the parents.

It was stated that lecturers should be employed to instruct the children upon these subjects. It is questionable, indeed, whether we can increase the modesty of children by approaching them in public upon subjects which the wisest parents find difficult to approach in private. Moreover, the viciously inclined children are not limited to the families of the so-called lower and ignorant classes, who are incompetent to instruct them.

Any teacher in Toledo will uphold me in the statement that they are largely the children of mothers who have not "time" to look after and care for them as they should—mothers whose outside interests range all the way from progressive euchre to prayer meeting, as the case may be.

Some mothers have singular conceptions of the duties of a teacher. I was once offered 50 cents a week by a mother who thought, it would compensate me for looking after her little boy during the noon hour, while I was detained at the school building. She said he was "such a nuisance" at home. I doubt if the undivided efforts of a lecturer on social purity will preserve the virtue of that boy. Another mother asked me to let her little girl remain with me after school hours, in order that she might attend a series of "Mothers' Meetings."

The fault is with the parents. No teacher, no lecturer can or should do what is the duty of the parent alone.

A child, boy or girl, who enters a primary school, armed with the confidence of the father and mother, has the only safeguard against contamination.

I cannot conceive a statement further from the interests of social purity than that "the Toledo public schools are training for prostitution." I cannot imagine a pure-minded boy or girl whose self-respect would not be lowered by listening to or reading such utterances—unjust and untrue though they be.

FIGHTING HER FATHER.

A Rich Iowa Girl Objects to a Design to Put Her Into an Insane Asylum.

Ottumwa, Ia., March 29.—Oskaloosa society is all torn up over a sensational trial now in progress, where the wealth of the parties interested, and their former high standing draw great crowds to the court room daily.

Miss Nannie Roberts, a most charming young woman, has brought suit against T. A. White, her uncle, and J. L. Roberts, her father, for attempting to have her sent to an insane asylum. The young lady has a large amount of property and it is thought the defendants took this method to get possession of it.

Public sentiment is with Miss Roberts, who has retained as her attorneys Congressman John Lacey and Judge Blanchard. Senator McCoy assisted by able counsel, represents the defence. The trial will probably last several days.

POETRY AND PIE.

Each morn I saw her in the tram,
A studious maid was she,
Of just the style her mind to cram
With gems of poesy.
And even in her hand she bore
A modest-seeming book.
Whose name I tried by staring o'er
To learn, by hook or crook.

And when great Browning's name I read
I soon made up my mind
That I must know the girl who fed
On matter of this kind.
I longed to read with her the lines
Which seem his best to me.
And delve within the hidden mines
Where thoughts like jewels be.

At length we two became acquaint,
And soon I peeped within
That book and found—I felt quite faint—
It was a box of tin!
But when with her I shared its cake,
Its toothsome pumpkin pie,
Its doughnuts, pickles, cold beefsteak,
I rallied, by the by.

Twelve hundred musicians were required for its execution. Mlle. Holmes is an indefatigable worker and an admirable teacher.

MARIE'S MISTAKE.

"Allow me to fasten your bracelet, Miss Genore," and a dark-mustached, fine-looking man bent low over a white tapering wrist, while little jeweled fingers scintillated and sparkled in the dazzling gaslight.

"Could I but make you understand," he continued, in low, earnest tones, "how wretched and miserable my life really is, bereft of love and Marie, you would at least grant me a kind word occasionally."

"How often must I tell you, Herbert, that I love you as much as I ever did? Love is all very well in its place, but really it shows very bad taste to lug it in at such unseasonable and inappropriate occasions.

"Good evening, Capt. Thorne! Isn't this a splendid gathering? I was just remarking to our friend, Mr. Maltravers, that I had not for a long time attended a party so exquisitely gotten up."

Herbert Maltravers had been for the past two years an accepted lover of Marie Genore's, but for some strange and incomprehensible reason, she had, without the least apology or excuse, suddenly dismissed him, and when pressed by the ardent lover for a satisfactory solution of the mystery, replied that her love remained undiminished, but her family all thought the engagement improper, as Mr. Maltravers' pecuniary position would not allow him to support her in the style and luxury to which she had been accustomed.

"Why does she still wear the symbol of our betrothal if our engagement is entirely broken off?" he asked himself for the thousandth time.

Herbert knew that Marie's father, with all his wealth, was very close and penurious, especially on the subject of ornaments; and he knew, too, that Marie's most valuable jewels were all presents.

Marie, cloaked and hooded, her bright, beautiful eyes having lost none of their sparkle from the night's dissipation, stood in the hall dispensing kind good nights to friends and acquaintances.

"Let me escort you to the carriage, just this time, Marie," pleaded the ardent lover; and laughing and chatting gayly, she accepted his arm in a matter-of-fact manner, and walked slowly out.

"What is it now, Herbert?" and the beauty's tones betrayed both ill-nature and impatience.

"I hope you will forgive me, Marie, for the language I used this evening. I cannot bear to think I have offended you."

"Your manner, Mr. Maltravers, is the principal thing I have to find fault with, and quite as much on your account as my own. But I have quite forgotten that you said anything this evening which you need ask for pardon. What was it Herbert?"

"It was about the ring, Marie; say that you forgive me."

"Herbert, if you desire this ring, it is yours; but I did hate to part with it so."

"For what reason, Marie? Was it for the blessed old associations connected with it?"

"Oh, Herbert! when will you have learned to be less demonstrative? Why will you not remember that we are no longer lovers, and that any recurrence to former love chapters is simply presumption? Mr. Maltravers, I would like to be your friend if you will allow me, that is all. Do you understand?"

"I think I do, Miss Genore," coldly replied the gentleman, with his hand upon the carriage door; "every scale is removed from my eyes. I do not want the ring at present: you may wear it until I have crushed out every particle of fondness for Marie Genore and have found some truer woman. Good night and good-by, Marie Genore."

"Who would have thought it?" mused Marie, as she leaned back in her father's aristocratic carriage. "But I shall bring him to terms again. It is so strange that Maj. Hunter don't propose.

"I am sorry, though, that I have offended Herbert. He may not be so easy to rewin," and the heartless beauty continued to discuss the situation until sleep closed her eyes.

"Ah! Marie," said the young lady's father one evening at dinner some months after the above incidents, "your discarded lover has had a very neat little present made him. You have heard him speak of that eccentric uncle of his in Boston; well, the old fellow has come down handsomely—a cool five hundred thousand, that's all, Marie. Better coax him back, if you can."

"I'll try it," laughed Marie, hysterically.

The next morning Mr. Maltravers received a daintily-perfumed little note, running thus:

Dear Herbert—Father has just informed me of your good fortune. Do come and receive the congratulations of your
MARIE.

But Herbert was in no hurry.

Once more a crowded drawing-room, with its elegantly-dressed ladies and gentlemen, music, flowers and the gorgeously-decked dancing-hall.

"Who is that beautiful, fairy-like little creature with Mr. Maltravers, Miss Genore?" inquired a gentleman with whom Marie was promenading.

She turned a little to see Herbert, his face lit up with a smile of genuine enjoyment.

A pleasant bow with a cool "Good evening, Miss Genore," was all the recognition Marie received.

"Will you allow me the pleasure of a promenade, Miss Genore?" politely inquired Herbert.

With a little flush of gratified pride, Marie accepted his arm, and once more the sweet little hand came in contact with his coat sleeve, while on the taper finger his diamond scintillated and sparkled.

"Come into the conservatory, Miss Genore, I have something to show you."

And Herbert, with Marie clinging lovingly to his arm, walked into the apartment, where roses, heliotropes and geranium, mingled with the perfume of costly exotics, made the air heavy with their fragrance.

The same elegant little woman, Herbert's companion, whom Marie had minutely criticised, stood in one corner of the room, the principal attraction of an admiring group.

"Lucy, will you excuse yourself for a moment? I have a friend to whom I wish to introduce you," asked Herbert of the lady in question. Marie still clasped his arm lovingly.

"Lucy, you have often heard me speak of Miss Genore. This is the lady," continued he, quietly withdrawing his arm. "And this little woman," affectionately drawing her to his side, "is my wife, Mrs. Maltravers. Under the circumstances, I think it is no more than justice to claim the symbol of our engagement."

Marie slowly, and like one in a dream, withdrew the heavy ring, while Lucy, with an expression of pity on her sweet face, quietly resumed her place among her friends.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

The Empress Eugenie intends to pass two months at Mentone, but before going there she will pay a visit to the queen at Windsor castle.

Congressman Johnson, of Indiana, is the most rapid talker who was ever heard in Washington, and is the despair of the professional stenographers.

A sister of Cardinal Manning, Mrs. Austen, has survived him, and though over 90 years of age, she is still active in charitable and benevolent work.

Baron Hirsch is credited with giving away $1,000,000 a year. Jay Gould has the credit of giving the boys away in a larger amount than that yearly.

Miss Josephine Rice, of the Harvard annex, and her sister, of Boston, are collaborating in a classic comedy which is soon to be performed before a swell club at the Hub.

Henry Fielding Dickens, a son of the great novelist, is making good progress at the English bar, and has recently been appointed a queen's counsel, a promotion which gives him his "silk."

The late Miss Julia Dickinson, a Michigan woman, left Oberlin college $40,000, one-half to endow the chair of lady principal, and the rest for the department of physical culture for women.

Paris dailies announce that Queen Natalie is about to go to London incognita to find a publisher for her memoirs. In Berlin and Vienna her efforts to this end were rendered futile by the authorities.

Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, is a devoted admirer of art, and is often to be seen in the Corcoran gallery standing before some favorite painting or statue, in evident delight. He is said to be an able critic in the matter of art, and quite a connoisseur.

She: "You are really a good husband."

He: "What is it now, darling—a new bonnet?"

"No; I know you want me to look well and be in good trim. Order me some of Johann Hoff's Malt Extract, the same as Mrs. Webb uses with her meals. It improved her wonderfully. You used to make fun of her light weight. You cannot do so now. She has become plump and of nice form. She uses it constantly as a beverage, and I like it very much. Baby needs it, too. It is very pleasant to take, increases the appetite, and it cured her of her dyspepsia and sleeplessness completely. Look out and buy no imitation. The genuine imported article has the signature "Johann Hoff" on the neck of every bottle.

A SLUGGISH STREAM.

It Gets Foul and Poisonous Unless It Is Kept Constantly Flowing.

At this season of the year people feel more or less weak, run down, wearied and depressed. It has been commonly supposed that it is due to impurities of the blood, and that only by purifying the blood can good health be secured. Is this true? Let us see. The blood gets impure because it is sluggish. How does a stream get impure, with green scum and poisons on the top? Simply because it doesn't run. A running stream is not impure, but a stagnant or sluggish stream always is. If, therefore, you would keep your blood pure, keep it moving, keep it throbbing. The moment it begins to be sluggish, it will begin to be impure, and you will feel the effects in tired, weak feelings, depressed emotions, and a thousand and one troubles which always follows. The proper way to keep the blood stirring is by the use of a pure stimulant, in moderation. Stimulate it gently, and it will keep in constant, healthy motion, and good health will follow. There is but one way in which this can be done, and that is by the use of the purest and best stimulant you can find, preferably whiskey, and there is but one absolutely pure, medicinal whiskey known to the world, and that is Duffy's Pure Malt. Scientists admit this, the doctors all confirm it. It is more generally used to-day than any other whiskey which the world has ever seen, and it is popular only through its merit. Do not let any druggist or grocer deceive you by saying they have something "just as good," "something they can recommend," etc. When any dealer says this, he has an interested motive, which usually is, to sell you something cheap and inferior, on which he can make more money. Do not be so deceived.

WOMEN'S WET FEET.

The Source of Infinite Trouble.

What the Combined Wisdom of the Doctors Is Upon This Important Subject and What They Have to Say.

The New York Sun has been doing some valuable work lately in investigating the real cause of all this sickness which is devastating the land. Sergeant Dunn of the weather bureau and all the leading doctors agree that wet feet are the prime cause of the trouble. One prominent physician said:

"If people would only have sense enough to keep their feet dry they would be all right. I tell you wet feet fill more graveyards than an epidemic of cholera. The average business man goes down town and tramps around in the wet until his feet are cold and damp. When he goes home, instead of putting on dry socks and warm slippers, he takes a drink of something hot. He gets into another perspiration, and the chances are that he will catch more cold.

"With the women it is the same way. Take the young girls you see tramping about in the mud on Fifth avenue and Broadway, or any city for that matter. Nine out of ten have got on low shoes. Is it surprising that they have colds? They have not had time to lay in their winter stock of footwear, or else they think their feet look better in low shoes, and they wear them until the snow falls. If simply taking cold were all it would not be so serious. A cold can be cured very quickly, but it is not as easy to get rid of it. No woman ever took a cold but what it affected her kidneys. The kidneys are the first spot that a cold attacks. A man or woman may cough or sneeze. Why? Because the kidneys are clogged—stopped up with a cold. The cold forms a dam that stops the current, and it overflows into the head, and we call it influenza; into the lungs, and we call it pneumonia. The quickest way to check a cold is to open the kidneys, and the surest way of doing this is by the use of something reliable like Warner's Safe Cure. I am certain that this great cure has stopped more colds and saved more lives than any other known remedy of the present day, or, for that matter, of any age."

In connection with, and in complete confirmation of the above, is a statement made by Mrs. R. F. McMurray, residing on St. Paul's avenue, Staten Island. She says:

"My mother, Mrs. S. A. Vanderbilt, and myself owe our health, and I almost feel our lives, to Warner's Safe Cure. I speak from a long experience. Recently I had a most severe attack of grip, arising from a cold, and the Safe Cure made me feel like a new person. Other members of our family, and also many friends and acquaintances, have received equal benefit, and all highly recommend it."

Wet feet start a cold. A cold invariably attacks the kidneys. Sickness, suffering and death often follow. Keep your feet dry. If possible avoid a cold, but having contracted it stop it at once by the best means you can find for certainly doing so. This advice is sound; it comes from the highest sources and it should be followed most carefully.

MR. GEORGE E. POMEROY

Discourses on the Merchants' National Bank,

With Reference to the Ives Episode Mentioned in Saturday's Issue of the Bee.

To the Editor: That the relations between the Merchants' National bank and Henry T. Ives & Co. should be properly recorded, it is necessary to correct the article in Saturday's Bee; but in so doing I do not desire to retract from Mr. Boice's reputation as a banker, for of that I have a most high opinion. But Mr. Ives never put the Merchants' National in any danger, and when the facts were pointed out to him he saw the position and never questioned the wisdom of the position taken by the bank people here.

First. When Mr. Ives was about in control of the stock of the C., H. & D. R. R. Co. he told me he would like to have an interest in a good bank in Toledo. I told him of the Merchants' and that it had had some hard knocks, but was now under the management of an able president, and as the stock was much scattered I believed the control could be bought near 105. After due consideration he gave me an open order to buy $151,000 of the stock at the best figures I could get it at. I first consulted President Boice, told him what railroad Mr. Ives proposed controling, and good must result from such an association. Mr. Boice concurred and I bought nearly $100,000 of the stock and had another block where it could be controlled. But all of this was not within several hundred shares of the majority of the bank stock. Now your Pittsburg informant was probably not in possession of the facts or he would not have said Ives & Co. had the control, "less 16 shares." The stock he acquired he put in my name, and he never appeared on the books of the bank as a stockholder.

The statement that Mr. Ives made application of the Merchants' bank for a heavy loan is incorrect. And that "the directory favored it" and the "president vetoed it" is all assumption. Mr. Ives never applied directly to the bank for a loan. The matter never was considered by the directory, and Mr. Boice never had the application to decline.

What did happen is just this:

On the 15th of July, 1887, when Ives & Co. were in sore financial straits, Mr. Ives wired me a message saying he must have $30,000 from the Merchants' bank on collateral which was mainly C., H. & D preferred stock. The message was submitted to Mr. Boice, not with the idea that the loan would be made by the bank, but that a proper consideration and reply should be made to Mr. Ives. I did not favor making the loan if collative could be made satisfactory, because if Ives & Co. failed, the bank might be temporarily injured by rumors, and the discussion of the matter did not take the form of application and refusal, and Mr. Boice never knew for some weeks what answer I sent to Mr. Ives. But as I am writing from records in my possession I will give a copy of the message in reply:

Toledo, July 15, 1887.

"Henry S. Ives:

"Considering the full news that has been telegraphed here, I should advise keeping yourselves aloof from the Merchants bank. Cleveland got alarmed a few days ago and asked by wire how much of your collateral was in that institution, meaning Merchants' bank, and we had the pleasure of replying 'not a dollar.'

"I advise this as the only wise course for you and the only wise course for the bank. The collateral is not acceptable anyway, and it is humiliating to force it to a blank refusal.

"I arranged a loan of $20,000 for S. to-day, and if it is not refused to-morrow I may be in shape to let you have $15,000 on personal grounds.

GEO. E. POMEROY.

Now, this is the only reply Ives & Co. ever had from an application they made to any one connected with the Merchants' bank. He did borrow of another bank here, on collateral, a part of which was the same as proposed to the Merchants' and the loan was paid with all its interest.

Mr. Ives, through his railroads, had two good accounts in the Merchants' bank. He owed me in the neighborhood of $100,000 (not in form of a loan) and he was not a customer to be injudiciously handled. In the face of the fact that I agreed with Mr. Boice as to the policy of a loan to him, I lent him $25,000 on collateral, which in course of time was paid.

The bank was carefully guarded that no unwise act of Ives & Co. should bring discredit to its doors, and the skill displayed in keeping clear of Ives & Co.'s complications has been many times complimented both by financiers who never had dealings with that firm and those who did.

But Mr. Ives was always thoughtful of the Merchants' bank, and even when his firm made the assignment and their curtains were drawn down. I asked them to pay over the balance due the Merchants' bank and they readily complied and counted out the currency.

The purchase of the bank stock was really a benefit to the bank after the failure of Ives & Co. The holdings extended from Toledo to Maine, and this centralization enabled the Reynolds Bros. and other strong men to acquire the prominent holdings they now possess, and which has made the bank third in the city of Toledo.

In closing this matter, it is not generally known that Mr. Ives made large purchases of real estate through me in Toledo, and if he had been satisfied with the ownership of the C., H. & D. railroad he would have erected a splendid depot either on the site of the Burnett house or on the block back of it.

No! the Pittsburg gentleman was wrong. Toledo and its banks never were in any real danger from H. S. Ives & Co.

GEORGE E. POMEROY.

OHIO SUPREME COURT.

Important Case and Motions Filed in Columbus.

Columbus, O., March 29.—Three important actions were begun in the supreme court this morning. The first is the Pennsylvania company against the state, to test the constitutionality of the Massie law authorizing the secretary of state to collect a fee of one-tenth of one per cent. on all railroad corporation papers in which the capital stock exceeds $10,000. The Pennsylvania & Western is also testing the law. The Panhandle case was begun in the Franklin county courts.

A motion for leave to file a petition in error to the circuit court of Lucas county was made by Prosecuting Attorney J. A. Barber. He desired to bring into court the criminal case against Scalper Foster E. Simmons, indicted for changing the date of a railroad ticket from April 27 to June 27. The circuit court dismissed the case, holding that the change does not constitute forgery.

The third case is from Mercer county, which the Celina Light & Fuel company seeks to dissolve an injunction held by the Celina Colored Plate & Window Glass company. The controversy is about free natural gas which Celina agreed to furnish the glass company if it would build its factory there in 1889 during the natural gas boom. Gas was to be free for five years, and for 10 years it was to cost only $300 annually. The gas was turned off in December, 1890, and the company secured an injunction, so they still have free gas with a good prospect of having it for some time to come. Thus far the city, through the light company, has lost the case in every court.

WORKING FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION.

What man can tell who will be nominated for president by the republicans or democrats. Each one works his "boom" for all it is worth. First we read Blaine's mind is tottering, that he's a physical wreck; again, that he suffers only from indigestion; and then we're told that Harrison don't want the nomination unless—; Hill says nothing; and Cleveland is in the hands of his friends. There are so many rumors that we know nothing definite except that Manager Brady has secured the great comedy drama "She Couldn't Marry Three," and it is undeniably the greatest show that ever visited us.

THE MAPLE LEAF ROUTE.

One of the most successful new lines in the west has been the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City railway, popularly known to the traveling public as the Maple Leaf, this emblem having been selected by the management of the company as its trademark. It is a road constructed on the principle of having only main lines operated, which extend between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis, Chicago and Kansas City, and Kansas City and St. Paul and Minneapolis, giving it three direct main lines of travel. Its lines extend through the most prosperous and productive portions of the great states of Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri and Kansas, which territory is justly claimed to be the garden spot of the world. One of the most pleasant features to travelers possessed by this line—and it is the only line in the west offering such accommodations—is the compartment feature of its sleeping cars, in which the price of the exclusive use of a drawing room is no more than the cost of a section in the ordinary Pullman car. Passengers, besides having these accommodations offered them, are also given the option of the standard style of Pullman cars. Its trains from Chicago arrive at and depart from the new Grand Central Passenger Station, which is acknowledged to be the handsomest of its kind in the world. The progressive and advanced methods of railroading inaugurated by this company have made it generally popular with the ticket agents throughout the country.—The Station Agent, Feb., 1892.

TIFFIN NOTES.

Happenings at the Capital of Seneca County.

Tiffin, O., March 29.—(Special)—A 12-months old son of William Ferguson, of Alvada, swallowed a large dose of morphine and an amount of chloroform, and its life was saved with the utmost difficulty.

Harry Slater secured $115 from the purse of George Gries who was carring some stock a few days ago, and skipped to the west. The purse contained $500, but the lad secured only a portion of it. The police are on his trail.

Jacob Ullman's residence in Big Spring township, was burglarized of $60 worth of goods yesterday.

Efforts are being made to organize a company of the National guard here, and the assistance of Adjt.-Gen. Pocock has been promised.

I suffered from biliousness, indigestion, etc. Simmons Liver Regulator cured after doctors failed.—W. D. Bird.

You will seldom need a doctor if you have Simmons Liver Regulator handy.

BACK TO THE WORKS.

A Norwalk Judge Sends a Man to Cleveland to Reside.

Norwalk, O., March 29.—(Special)—Tom Buckley, from Clarksfield, who brutally assaulted Chas. Gossman, in Joe Miller's saloon in this city, was arraigned before Mayor Crawford and plead guilty to the assault and battery.

He asked for mercy, but the mayor sentenced him to 60 days in the Cleveland workhouse and to pay fines and costs of $71.30.

He was taken to Cleveland this morning. It will be eight months before he regains his freedom. He had just left the workhouse, serving a sentence for a crime committed at Lorain, Ohio.

To think "nothing ails you anyhow," is a symptom of dyspepsia. Take Simmons Liver Regulator.

MISSOURI REPUBLICANS.

St. Louis, March 29.—The republican state committee to-day decided to hold the judicial nominating convention on April 27, and the convention to nominate delegates to the republican national convention at Minneapolis on April 28. The convention will be held in Jefferson City.

THE NAUGHTY COMMITTEE

Of the Republican League Wanted a Commission

From the Railroad with Which They Placed Their Business—Railroad Men Mad.

The passenger men who came to Toledo a few days ago to bid for the business of the Republican league to the Minneapolis convention are mad, and justly, too. Said one of the gentlemen to the Bee: "The first thing the committee said to us was 'what commission are you going to give the committee if we give you a thousand passengers?' We wasn't prepared to give the committee anything for placing the business. We didn't expect to do things that way. We supposed that the committee would select what they thought was the best route and not let any commission business to the committee enter into the arrangement. I am a republican, but I am ashamed of the manner in which the committee acted in the matter, and every railroad man who was present at that meeting feels the same as I do about it."

THE GAS TRUSTEES.

Current Expense Claims Go to the City Solicitor.

General Greene Submits His Discoveries in Pittsburg—Routine Business Which Was Attended To.

The gas trustees held quite an interesting session last evening. A number of bills for material furnished were presented, and the question arose whether they came within the terms of the injunction as "current expenses," which was referred to the city solicitor. Other bills to the amount of $1,151.96 were approved.

Mr. Greene, the trustee who accompanied the mayor's committee to Pittsburg, submitted a report of the trip, which was very largely covered by the report of that committee, as well as by the investigation of Mr. Murphy, of the Bee.

Mr. Backus moved that the very excellent and full report of the committee be accepted and placed on file.

Mr. Jones offered an amendment thanking Mr. Greene for his time, trouble and expense, so generously donated to the cause.

Kerlin Bros. presented a bill for $590.52 pipe line warrants due. Referred to the committee on city plant.

A communication was read from the city solicitor of Findlay requesting that the well on the Barnes farm, in the Stuartsville field, be plugged, as water runs in and floods the gas bearing rock.

Mr. Voit wanted to know why it was necessary for such a complaint to come to the board; that the manager ought to know enough to plug a well without orders from the board.

Mr. Backus—"That is what we have been trying to find out for a long time. That well has cost us more than it is worth ten times over."

A report of the manager was received, showing the amount expended on labor with the names and compensation of all employes connected with the plant, with the statement that it was the custom to cut down expenses in this regard whenever possible. He recommended that canvassers be appointed to visit all consumers and ascertain who are using gas per contract or not, as a great many of them had their own fitting done. The total salaries paid last month were $3,089.66.

The secretary submitted receipts of cash duplicates amounting to $1,195.41.

Mr. Backus introduced a resolution directing the manager to institute a thorough inspection of mixers, those that had been bored out to No. 9 and were delivering the full capacity to be bushed; also to establish a rigid inspection of the line between the city and the field and ascertain if possible whether the flow of gas is obstructed by any substance.

Mr. Heston stated that the mixers were being attended to, and that the line underwent an inspection once a week; that drips had been located at all low places and were regularly blown out, and he was certain that the line was not obstructed in any manner.

THE COUNCILMEN

Do Business in Regular Session for the Last Time.

Refuse to Settle with Billy Cook's Bondsmen—The B. F. Wade Co. Get the Printing of Reports—Miscellaneous Matters.

The present board of councilmen held its last session last evening, and, with all members present except Messrs. Caldwell and Neuendorf, closed up its business. The schedule was not long, and there was but little discussion during the meeting. The street railway ordinance was passed over the mayor's veto, the board refused to settle with Cook's bondsmen, and the resolution to abolish the park board was laid over.

Under the call for new business Mr. Morganthaler presented a resolution which was adopted directing the city engineer to issue a permit to connect drainage of several lots with sewer 43.

Mr. Schmuhl presented a resolution to condemn and appropriate a sewer right of way on the extension of Lawrence avenue from Delaware avenue to the line of Cushing's Leap Year addition. This was adopted.

An ordinance was passed accepting the plat of Cushing's Leap Year addition.

The city solicitor reported the contract with the B. F. Wade Co. for printing the city's annual reports and the same was approved.

Ordinances were passed to grade Page street from Lagrange to Elm and Park street from South to Western avenue.

Resolutions were adopted to pave the western end of Bancroft street; to turnpike Albany street from Chase to Ontario; to grade Erie street from Galena to Sandusky; to turnpike Grand street from Detroit street to the old canal bed; to turnpike Nevada street from Oak street to Euclid avenue; and to turnpike Robison street from Nevada street to Woodville street.

The solicitor reported a resolution, approved by the ways and means committee to release the bondsmen of W. H. Cook upon the payment of $2,200.

In so doing the solicitor explained that out of the $10,145 of irregularities found in Cook's accounts as police clerk, in his opinion the city could only recover in law not more than $3,207. He considered the settlement for $2,200 a good one.

The resolution, however, was lost, Messrs. Albrecht, Doner and Taylor being the only members voting for it.

A communication from the Warren-Scharf Asphalt Paving company, offering to take all the bonds for the Fulton street paving, if they are awarded the contract, was read and placed on file.

The mayor reported that the health department had destroyed the city pound in accordance with orders from the police and health board. He called attention to the necessity for building a new pound and stated that the tongue of land between the canal and Swan creek had been offered for that purpose.

The mayor's veto of paragraphs 7 and 11 of the general street railway ordinance was read and the council expressed their opinion of his judgment by passing the ordinance over his veto. Messrs. Lee and Pheatt alone voting to sustain the mayor.

Business from the board of aldermen was all passed without comment, including the resolution requesting the legislature to pass an enabling act to allow the city to issue bonds to the amount of $60,000 for additional fire engine houses.

On leave Mr. Gill presented a resolution for a new sewer in the alley south-east of Fourth street. Referred to the sewer committee.

The resolution requesting the legislature to abolish the board of park commissioners was laid over for the new council, on motion of Mr. Taylor.

A WONDERFUL PLANT.

The Important Part That a Toothsome Vegetable, Properly Combined, Is Taking in Modern Affairs.

(Home News.)

Here is what a great doctor says: "Everyone knows that celery is good for the nerves. But it is not generally known that celery, alone, will not give that permanent help to the nerves which they require. Celery, combined with other valuable things, is beyond question by far the best discovery ever made for weak, nervous or run-down people."

The discovery referred to by the doctor is the only discovery ever made for combining celery with just the right things in just the right way to produce wonderful and healthful effects upon the nerves and brain. It was accomplished after years of care and experimenting by Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth College and it is known to-day universally as Paine's Celery Compound. This is no cheap combination of cheap ingredients. It is no "nervine," "sarsaparilla," or other nostrum. It is a scientific chemical discovery and is so acknowledged by the profession and the public.

But the real value of any and all discoveries must be proven by use. This is just where this great Compound is most strong. Read a few of many statements concerning it.

For the last six years I have been afflicted with neuralgia of the heart and general debility, and all that time have been drugged with morphine and quinine to kill the pain, but no cure. I am now taking Paine's Celery Compound, and it is doing me much good, for I have not had an attack since I commenced using it, and feel like another person.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. MARY A. WAGNER,
Saltillo, Pa.

When a man has lost his appetite, lost his sleep, and feels that life is a burden, he is in a serious condition. I prescribe your Compound to my patients who have these common and dangerous symptoms, with invariably satisfactory results.

Yours,
A. W. K. NEWTON, M. D.,
Boston, Mass.

The mysterious qualities which go to make up nerve, make up strength, make up life can all be secured by just the right use of just the right thing. And the above facts, together with the proof of their truth are given with the hope that they may prove of benefit to you as they have to hundreds of others.

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 569,454 bu and at the other five points 186,103 bu. The export clearances yesterday at four principal western points were: Wheat 174,538 bu and flour to an aggregate of 400,000 bu. Export of corn 184,650 bu and of oats 26,629 bu.

English markets as reported herein are dull and lower for wheat and steady for corn.

Wheat Supplies and Crop Reports.

We have at last one bull feature to congratulate ourselves with. The flour and wheat on ocean passage was reduced last week 1,312,000 bu. while the imports into the United Kingdom were fully up to the requirements of the period.

Some of our grain receivers have letters concerning the growing wheat. In Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, on the uplands, there is more or less damage. The late rains and growing temperature have demonstrated that on such fields 10 to 20 per cent. may be lost, but this estimate is by no means general. Other letters are full of encouragement. It looks to us like a promise of a spotty and irregular yield, and it will have to hump itself to produce 500,000 bu, unless the northwest exceeds last year.

Available wheat and corn show a decrease of 1,158,000 bu wheat, and an increase of 46,000 bu corn.

The Future Trading Bill.

Information comes from Washington that the Hatch bill will be so modified when reported to the house, as to be unobjectionable to the exchanges. It is too early to claim so much as that, but we would give something reasonable for the privilege of incorporating one section into the bill. We believe the Pardridges would then find Jordan a harder road to travel. The report from Washington had a bracing effect on the market, and it is about the only thing that did.

The Markets To-Day.

We are grateful for small favors. The wheat markets have gained alittle advantage to-day. The only discoverable reason for it is the enormous decline of the past few weeks. A decline, much of which has been unnecessary, and has been produced by the most vicious and reckless speculation. We can only hope—we dare not trust that the bottom is reached.

East and west the wheat markets have ruled 1-2c to 3-4c above yesterday's closing prices.

Corn is a shade better in New York. In Chicago the May future has been 1c higher, but lost part of the advance.

Foreign markets do not offer us any encouragement in closing prices, but if we quoted every decline that has been claimed at 1 o'clock for two weeks past, the prices of wheat abroad would have been worn out.

In New York May wheat closed 5-8c and July 3-4c up. May corn 1-8c and July 1-4c up. May oats 1-4c up.

In Chicago May wheat closed 5-8c and July 3-4c up. May corn 1-2c and July 1-4c, and May oats 1-4c up.

In Toledo.—The trading in wheat futures has been light. It has been the dullest day for some time. There is no news bearing on prices of importance not already referred to herein. Prices are somewhat improved, and at close May was 5-8c and July 5-8c higher. August 1-8c up. On the call May sold at 87 1-4c; July at 84 3-8c, and August 83 3-4c. After the call May sold at 87 3-8@87 3-4c, and closed at 87 5-8c. July sold at 84 3-8@84 3-4c, and closed at 84 1-2c. August sold at 83 3-4c and closed at 83 1-2c.

Cash wheat was held higher. Very small sales at an improvement of 3-4c. There were seaboard orders here within a fraction of the market. No. 2 soft sold in a small way at 88c to 88 1-4c. No. 3 soft at 86 1-2c. No. 2 white at 86 1-2c. Corn was more active. No. 2 39 1-2c. No. 3 at 38 1-2 to 39c. No. 4 at 36 1-2c to 36 3-4c. No. 2 yellow at 40c. No. 3 yellow at 39c. No. 2 white at 41c. Rye—No. 2 at 83c.

Clover Seed was inactive and about steady in price. Prime for cash and March at $6.50. No. 2 at $6.25 to $6.30.

OPERA GALORE

And Irish Comedy and Fun "Galorer."

The Wilburs Give a Good Show at Wheeler's—Dan McCarthy at the People's—Coming Attractions.

The Wilburs gave a fine performance at Wheeler's last evening. Marjorie was presented in an excellent manner. The company was never so large before. The choruses were good throughout and the solo work was far above the average, especially E. A. Clarke's "You Are My Queen To-night," and Miss Kerwin's Nightingale song. Commedian Kohnle was very funny as the sheriff's officer, and Maggie Bolton was his able second as Priscilla Frivette. J. E. Conly, Emmett Drew, Dorothy Morton, Belle Hamilton and other favorites were in the cast, and as usual did well. This afternoon Fanchette is being sung. It will be repeated this evening with the following cast:

Dom Lamberto, Lord High Admiral, J. E. Conly
Dom Domingos, Lord Chamberlain, H. W. Tredenick
Dom Januario, a wealthy Brazilian, E. A. Clarke
Dom Norberto, Captain in the Navy, Emmett Drew
Roderiquez.........J. Clarence Harvey
Jose.........Belle Hamilton
Diego.........Fannie Lyons
Mungo, Dom Januario's colored servant, W. H. Kohnle
Fanchette Michel, a Parisian Actress, Susie Kerwin
Marie, Queen of Portugal, Dorothy Morton
Donna Antonio, wife of Dom Domingos, Maggie Bolton

To-morrow afternoon and evening Falka will be given. The Wilburs give a good show and deserve packed houses.

At the People's

An Irish drama is always entertaining, and "Cruiskeen Lawn" at the People's this week is above the average. The story deals with the oppression of the poor of Ireland by the aristocracy and wealthy. Vice prevails, but virtue conquers, the villains are hung, and those left get married. Of course there is plenty of fun, for where is there an Irish character without an abundance of original wit? A novel feature was introduced in the way of calcium effects, which portrayed many interesting and historical points of Ireland in lime colors.

Dan McCarthy, as Dublin Dan, is an Irishman pure and simple, and is an artist in his line.

Hal Clarendon, as Silas Stone, the dual-faced villain, is a host in himself, and does the business to a letter. W. J. Mason as Paddy Miles made the audience laugh whenever he showed his face. Nellie Pierce as Kate Carney received much attention, and Lillian Keene as Nora Maguire is full of life, and has a bright conception of the Irish character. The piece should draw well.

The Property Box.

There will be matinees every day at Wheeler's this week.

The Limited Mail will be the attraction at the People's next week.

The Wilburs will give a sacred concert Sunday evening at Wheeler's.

The Wilburs put on the Black Hussar Thursday afternoon and evening.

Sol Smith Russell and Miss Anna Belmont will be at Wheeler's April 9.

The Midnight Alarm will be on the boards at the People's the week after next.

The English soubrette, Miss Kennedy, will appear at Wheeler's, April 6, in She Couldn't Marry Three.

Mr. Barnes of New York, a dramatization of Gunther's famous novel, will be given at Wheeler's April 11 and 12.

GENERAL MANAGER DRAKE

Of the C., J. & M., Makes His Appointments.

Mr. Schindler at the Head of the Freight and Passenger Departments as Before—Messrs. Martin, Flanders, and Backus Are in It.

Walston H. Brown, president of the C., J. & M., issues the following circular:

The railroad and property of the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad company having been sold under decrees of foreclosure rendered by the United state circuit court for the northern and southern districts of Ohio and eastern and western districts of Michigan, and duly conveyed by the purchasers to the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railway company, a consolidated corporation of the states of Ohio and Michigan, the last named company will, on the first day of April, 1892, assume possession and from that date operate the said railroad. The officers of the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railway company are as follows: Walston H. Brown, president; Frank B. Swayne, vice president; F. B. Drake, general manager; Richard Outwater, secretary and treasurer; Swayne, Swayne & Hayes, general counsel. The general manager will appoint the heads of the different departments and subordinate agents.

General Manager Drake, of this city, accordingly announces to-day the following appointments:

T. C. M. Schindler, general freight and passenger agent.
W. F. Booth, acting auditor.
O. A. Wilson, cashier and paymaster.
J. B. Flanders, superintendent.
W. T. Backus, superintendent Ohio division.
S. S. Thorn, surgeon-in-chief.
A. H. Watts, master mechanic.
W. D. Williams, chief engineer.
L. I. Martin, car accountant.
F. C. Cheney, freight and ticket accountant.

All other persons now employed in the operation of the railroad will continue to discharge their present duties.

The above appointments will take effect April 1, 1892, and continue in effect until further notice.

Mr. Drake has done much for the C., J. & M. He is a thorough railroad man and an excellent gentleman. The new company did a wise thing to retain him as general manager, as a better man for the position could not be found.

If you are weak, tired and nervous, with lifeless feeling and no ambition to work, it will restore your strength, vigor and energies. If you are sleepless and wake tired mornings, with dull head, bad taste in the mouth, no appetite, depression of mind and extreme nervousness, it will clear your head, tone up your nerves, invigorate your blood and put vim and life into you.
Dr. Greene, the famous lecturer and specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases, can be consulted free at his office, 35 West 14th St., New York, personally, or by letter.

TO WRECK AND ROB.

Bold Move Made Against the "Ellen N."

Birmingham, Ala., March 29.—Passenger train No. 4 on the Louisville & Nashville road, bound for Cincinnati, ran into four cross-ties placed on the trestle five miles north of Birmingham and would have been wrecked had not the train been slacked up. While the obstruction was being removed a flagman went back to guard the rear of the train, when two robbers fired four times at him. None of the shots took effect. The two men had put obstructions on the track in order to wreck and rob the train.

After trying to kill the flagman they fled on horses and have been trailed with bloodhounds to this city.

PRESSED BRICK MACHINE.

Columbus, O., March 29.—Judge Duncan, of the court of common pleas, held to-day that the use of the Whittaker pressed brick machine, which is used in all of the large cities, was illegal unless the right was obtained from McCoy, Ives & Co., St. Louis, who are the assignees of Whittaker, an Englishman. The case came up on account of other parties selling the machine itself and the right to use it.

ANOTHER INDICTMENT.

Chicago, March 29.—One more name has been added to the list of indicted officials. The grand jury voted an indictment for bribery against Millard B. Herely, of the city board of education, and chairman of the committee on janitors and supplies of that body.

MOCKETT'S BOYS' CLOTHING!

Is the best that's made, our aim is to see how good not how cheap we can buy goods. The Make, Style, Fit and Finish of our Boy's Clothing is perfect, and we guarantee our prices the lowest. Do you know that we are cash buyers, and he who can go to the market and buy for cash, not only gets the pick of the choicest productions, but always gets the benefit of the lowest prices, in addition to liberal discounts. It is these advantages that enable us to sell you better goods for LESS MONEY THAN OTHERS CAN.

KNOCKABOUTS!

FOR SCHOOL WEAR.

The best and strongest School Suit made and only

FIVE DOLLARS.

Every strand long and strong wool. Native Colors.

CANNOT FADE!

Every Seam Taped.

CANNOT RIP!

Made for boys to run and jump, skip and climb and romp and ride in.

Our stock is bristling with new and pretty things for the little folks—the cream of the Boston and New York markets.

Little Jerseys,
Little Middies,
Little Zouaves, &c.

And we show besides an excellent line of Single and Double-Breasted Sacks for the miniature man.

Three Dollar Suits!

SPECIAL PRICE.

More than fifty styles and patterns to choose from. These were bought by Mr. Mockett when in New York a short time ago. Sizes run from 4 to 14 years. We have sold hundreds of 'em since we advertised 'em two weeks ago, and every mother is more than satisfied with them.

BOYS' ODD PANTS 50c. AND $1.00 A PAIR!

Five hundred pairs at 50c. and 500 pairs at $1.00 pair. The fifty cent pants are made from durable fabrics; the cloth alone would cost you more. The $1 pants are corduroys and wear like sole leather.

MOTHERS AND FATHERS—You would wrong yourselves if you should buy your boy a suit without first seeing our styles, and you would do your boys an injury by depriving them of the opportunity of getting a chance to choose a suit from a metropolitan stock.
